British and French Make Gains on Somme

BOSTON LINER IN CRASH AT SEA

GERMANS FORCED BACK

British Take Fliers; German Prince Killed in Battle on Rumanian Front; Bulgars Lose

Successes by the allies both on the Somme front and north of Salonica were reported today.

The German and Bulgarian forces meanwhile have penetrated far into the Dobrudja, to Cuzgun and Cara Orman, the Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of Hesse being killed in the fighting at the latter point. Cuzgun is about fifty miles inside the frontier.

The British, after several days of comparative quiet, began a new attempt to capture Thiepval, pivotal point of the German lines in Picardy.

They succeeded in capturing 1,000 yards of German trenches southeast of Thiepval and also captured Flers on the road from Bapaume to Ginchy, representing a gain of a mile.

The French at the same time were active. They had thrust their lines through Bouchavesnes, in a narrow wedge. They widened that wedge by taking some trenches south of Rancourt, which is north of Bouchavesnes; and they also repulsed a strong German attack against Clery on the Somme, southwestof Bouchavesnes.

In the Balkans, Salonica front, they achieved success. The Serbians routed the Bulgars over a nine-mile front west of Lake Ostrovo. This lake is due west of Salonica, and is south of Monastir, on the border of what was Serbia.

The extent of this success is not definitely described in the Paris dispatches. On the Vardar front, north of Salonica, the British captured Matchoukvo and a Bulgarian salient north of that town. The French to

REPORT U-LINER OFF NANTUCKET

The Atlantic seaboard, from Boston southward, was stirred today by a report that a German submarine merchantman had been spoken by wireless 200 miles east of Nantucket.

The report caused great speculation on two points:

Which of the new U-liners was it; what port was it seeking?

It was assumed that the submarine was the long-awaited Bremen, the Amerika, which was reported to have sailed from Germany, or the Deutschland on a second trip over here.

When the report gave the submarine's location as 300 miles east of Nantucket some jumped to the conclusion that it was headed for Boston. But this belief was quickly dispelled. In the first place, mariners said that the very location showed that the submarine was headed, not for Boston, but for some port to the south, presumably New London or Baltimore.

New London was regarded as the probable destination in view of the elaborate preparations which have been made there to receive a sub-

POLICE FIGHT CHELSEA RIOTERS

A crowd of strikers from the Walton Shoe Company's Chelsea factories mobbed two automobiles loaded with strike-breakers on Charlestown bridge today; the police reserves charged the mob with drawn clubs, and before quiet was restored the strike-breakers were badly beaten up, one was seriously hurt, and four arrests were made.

The riot lasted half an hour. Six physicians were busy dressing scalp wounds and other injuries when the mob was finally scattered.

The man seriously injured was Abdalla Yared, a strike-breaker, who rooms in East Boston. His scalp was so lacerated that he was sent to his home. The other strike-breakers finally reached the factory, after being escorted by the police from the bridge to the Chelsea line, and went to work. Almost everyone had a black eye or a bruise of some kind.

The four men arrested were all strikers. Paul Keniluk and Mike Fernosi were charged with inciting a riot; and Arsen Abgkian and Peter

Braves and Sox Lose, but Stick to Positions in Both Leagues; Double-Bills May Upset Plan

By JOHN W. MORAN JR.

One or two of the things which all Boston fandom most hoped for yesterday failed to materialize. First, the Braves failed to win from Chicago while Philadelphia was losing, and are as a result still in third place. Then the Red Sox failed to land the clash with St. Louis. However, inasmuch as the Tygers dropped a game to the Yankees, the Sox are still at the head of the parade.

As matters stand this morning Brooklyn has gained a game on the Braves and the Phillies are still the same distance in front. In the American League the same positions remain, but the percentage separating the Red Sox and Tygers is one point higher than yesterday. The White Sox, however, loom up quite dangerous, for they are now but six points, or hardly half a game, behind the lead, though in third position.

UNDER FORCED DRAFT.

Today the Braves are two and a half games back of Brooklyn and a game behind the Phillies. Yesterday would have been a golden opportunity, but at this time too much cannot be expected of the Stallings' entry. They are playing under forced draft and wins cannot come their way every day. As a result of the happening in the two leagues yes-

"L" Trains in New York Attacked From Roofs; Threat That 75,000 Will Join Carmen Monday

By L. V. B. RUCKER.

New York, Sept. 15.—Serious violence marked the opening of the second week of the traction strike early today.

Elevated trains on both the east and west sides were attacked with revolvers, bricks, bottles and stones.

Many passengers had narrow escapes from being seriously injured, in one instance a bullet lodging in the woodwork of an elevated car a short distance from a passenger's head.

Windows were shattered and persons in trains thrown into panic. In every instance, however, the attackers succeeded in making their escape before the police could reach the roofs of the buildings from which the missiles were thrown.

Surface traffic on a larger scale that has been attempted since the strike went into effect was hampered today by pieces of wood and metal

NEW PREMIER OF GREECE RESIGNS

By International News Service.

Athens, Sept. 15.—M. Dimitrakopoulos informed King Constantine today that he had found it impossible to form a cabinet having a policy calling for anything other than immediate Greek participation in the war, and therefore begged to be relieved of his task.

It became known late yesterday that Dimitrakopolus had decided to reject the premiership, but further efforts were made last night to have him alter his determination. These failed, and he informed the king of his determination early today.

Friends of the king have again addressed him to turn once more to Eleutherios Venizelos in this crisis. Constantine replied that he desired to act for the best interest of Greece, and that he would consider the suggestions.

HITS COAL BARGES IN FOG

Gloucester, With 76 Passengers Aboard, From Baltimore to Boston, Escapes With Slight Injury

The Merchants' and Miners' steamship Gloucester, bound for Boston from Baltimore, collided with two coal barges in Vineyard Sound, in a dense fog today, throwing the seventy-six first class passengers into confusion and injuring one barge so seriously that it was necessary to beach her on Naushon Island.

The Gloucester was only slightly injured and is coming to port under her own power. Officers of the ship calmed the passengers and assured them the ship was in no danger.

The barges were bound for Philadelphia. They left port last night in tow of the tug George's Creek. They are numbered 19 and 21. Number 19 was damaged the most and in order to prevent her sinking she was beached at Naushon.

The Scott Wrecking Company sent a boat this afternoon to her assistance. The other barge was less seriously injured, and while damaged somewhat is in no danger of sinking, according to report.

The Gloucester, which was due this morning, is not expected until late this afternoon because of the accident

German 'Wunderwerk' Captured by British

By SYDNEY B. CAVE,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Sept. 15—Once more the British have pierced the German front at one of the points boasted by the Teuton commanders to be strongest. Resuming their advance in the district south of Thiepval on the Somme front, the British swept back the German defenders by the fury of their assault.

The official statement issued by the War Office today announces that the capture of a thousand yards of trenches southeast of Thiepval, including the "Wunderwerk," a position which the Germans had fortified until they believed it impregnable.

This position was desperately defended, but the Germans were thrown back, and it remained in British hands. To the north of the road leading from Bapaume to Albert the British also smashed the Teuton lines advancing from 2,000 to 3,000 yards on a front of six miles. This drive was made between the Bouleaux wood and the Bapaume-Albert road.

The war office announcement states that the British are still progressing under favorable conditions.

The text of the British official statement follows:

"Last night enemy trenches southeast of Thiepval on a front of 1,000 yards, including the strongly defended locality known as the Wunderwerk (Wonder work) were captured.

"This morning we attacked the enemy on the front extending from Bouleaux wood to the north of the Albert-Bapaume road, about six miles, with considerable success. Already we have advanced 2,000 to 3,000 yards in various places. The attack is progressing satisfactorily. A large number of prisoners have been taken.

"In this attack we employed for the first time a new type of heavy-armored car which proved of considerable utility.

"There was much aerial fighting. Four hostile machines were brought down afloat, and at least four others downed in a damaged condition. A Pomille aeroplane was brought down last night and one this morning.

"Our aeroplanes co-operated in the advance of the infantry from a close height, firing on the enemy on the ground.

"Bombs were successfully dropped on three of the enemy's headquarters and on the railway station at Bapaume. Much stock was damaged and a train destroyed."

Bulgarian Line Is Smashed by Allies.

By CHARLES F. BERTELLI,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Sept. 15—Allied French, Serbian and British troops have won a sweeping victory over the Bulgarians on the Macedonian front, the War Office announced today.

The Serbians routed the Bulgars on a front of nine miles and are now in hot pursuit of the defeated enemy. In their advance the Serbians have occupied several important positions.

The entire right wing of the Bulgarian army west of Lake Ostrovo appears to have been crumpled up by the smashing attack of the reorganized Serbian army.

On the Vardar front the British found themselves opposed by combined Bulgarian and German forces, but these were unable to check the attacks of the Britons, who swept forward as the beaten enemy retired. The British captured Mocskowo in their first assault.

While their Serbian and English allies were driving forward successfully the French also took the offensive and launched an attack upon Bulgar trenches on a front of nearly a mile. They met with desperate resistance, but after a bitter battle succeeded in wresting the entire trench line, 1,500 yards long, from the Bulgars.

SPECTACULAR LA SAGE.

The lunge of the Serbian army against the front of the Bulgarians, their traditional enemy, was the most spectacular phase of the general offensive. The order to advance was met with cheers and their first rush the Serbs captured Gorniovo at the point of the bayonet. They next assailed and took a position known as the Malkanidge crater, shortly afterward driving the Bulgars out of the village of Kleshta, the site of the southern point of Lake Ostrovo.

The official report on Balkan operations follows:

"Army of the Orient — From the Struma, to Lake Doiran cannonade continues on both sides. It is rather violent in the region of Mt. Beles.

"On the left bank of the Vardar British troops fought with the Bulgarians, who were supported by German infantry, a violent combat which resulted to their (British) advantage. Machine was taken by assault, as well as two peaks north of that locality, on which the British are firmly established. One hundred prisoners and ten machine guns were captured.

"On the right bank of the Vardar French troops captured enemy trenches on a front of 1,500 yards and to a depth of 800 yards. East of Cerna the Serbians continued their advance toward Kotrenik and Kajokalean.

CAPTURE GORNIOVO.

"West of Lake Ostrovo, the battle in which for several days the Serbian army and important Bulgarian forces have been engaged, ended in a very brilliant success for our allies. Gorniovo was captured at the point of the bayonet, as well as the greater part of the Malkanidje crater.

"Serbian cavalry pursuing the Bulgarians captured along the road the village of Eksisu, forcing the adversary to retreat precipitately more than fifteen kilometres. In the course of these actions, the Serbians captured twenty-five cannon and a great number of prisoners, the actual number of which is not yet known.

"On our left wing Franco-Russian troops completely cleared all the region south of Lake Ostrovo for a distance of sixty kilometres of Bulgarian comitadji, who were advancing toward Keyani.

"Four French aviators dropped a number of projectiles on Sofia. One who continued his flight landed at Bucharest."

WAR SUMMARY

The French today captured a small trench system along the Peronne-Bapaume highway, south of Rancourt. Otherwise the positions on the Somme were unchanged.

German counter attacks were aimed at Clery, on the Somme, southwest of the furthest points of the French advance. The counter attacks were all repulsed, but the fact that they were possible shows the French line was not so far advanced in that region as had been supposed.

The British have begun an offensive for the capture of Thiepval, taking 1,000 yards of German trenches.

The allies, according to dispatches from Paris which have an official flavor, have won a victory in the Balkans north of Salonica.

The Serbian army there, it is claimed, has routed the Bulgarian right wing opposing them, while the French and British contingents have won successes of less magnitude.

The reports are not sufficiently definite, however, to be put to the acid test of the maps; and the news is only significant as indicating a possible allied intention to open at last that long delayed offensive northward into Serbia.

The Dobrudja campaign is increasing in interest, more or less because of the air of mystery that surrounds the fighting there. Both the German and Bulgarian bulletins today report that the Teuton-Bulgar troops are there advancing, while "fighting successfully." The Russian and Rumanian bulletins are silent on the subject. Only one thing can be said with any certainty, and that is that the Teutonic allies have met surprisingly weak resistance in this locality—so weak that after they have established defensive lines to suit them there, they may be tempted to attempt the crossing of the Danube. The chief argument against such a course is simple; that to crush Rumania would net the Teutonic allies no great advantage, while it would cost them men and munitions they can ill spare.

There was little or nothing worth notice on the Russian front yesterday. The great Russian offensive seems to have definitely spent itself. It has done no hard fighting for many weeks. Whether Russia will have mustered strength for a new attack before Winter renders operations difficult or impossible is problematical.

APPONYI TELLS OF AUSTRIAN DEFEAT

London, Sept. 15—A wireless press dispatch from Rome states that the Austrians have been defeated by the Russians in a three-day battle west of Mt. Kapul in the Carpathians.

By International News Service.

Budapest, via Amsterdam, Sept. 15.—Count Albert Apponyi, leader of the opposition, made a sharp attack on the Austrian military administration in the Hungarian parliament yesterday.

Count Apponyi declared that a grave defea' had been administered to the dual monarchy's army at Lutsk by the Russians which the government had attempted to conceal.

"This completely changed the Austrians' eastern front," he asserted. "It is necessary that we should receive guarantees that there be no recurrence of such a disaster."

Open New Way for Attack on Peronne.

By CHARLES F. BERTELLI,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Sept. 15—Resuming their offensive while the Germans were still engaged in fruitless efforts to retake their lost positions, the French troops on the Somme front have extended their front southeast of Combles and north of Peronne by capturing a system of German trenches at Rancourt.

A French salient that was pushed forward by the capture of Bouchavesnes has thus been spread out until the troops operating therein threaten to envelop Combles from the south and east, while at the same time holding a position favorable for an assault on Peronne from the north.

At Clery, northwest of Peronne, the Germans launched another fierce counter attack, but the official communique states that this was also beaten back.

The text of the official communique follows:

"North of the Somme last evening in the course of a violent attack our troops took by assault all the German trenches south of Rancourt and pushed their own trench elements up to the outskirts of that village.

"During the night the Germans renewed their attacks in the region east of Clery. All their efforts suffered a bloody check, particularly in the direction of the southern extremity of Hill No. 76, where the enemy suffered heavy losses.

"South of the Somme we easily repulsed a grenade attack northeast of Berny-en-Santerre.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne a surprise attack on an enemy trench in the region of Maureches enabled us to inflict some losses on the enemy and bring back prisoners.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) the enemy attempted two attacks against our line west of Fort Vaux road. Our machine gun fire both times threw him back to his own trenches.

"The night was quiet everywhere else."

British Repulsed, Berlin Declares

By International News Service.

Berlin, Sept. 15.—The German War Office announced today that English troops had made another attempt to capture the German salient line at Thiepval, on the Somme front, but had failed. The official report admitted that French troops had captured Le Pries farm, near Combles, however. The report on Balkan operations states that British troops were driven out of trenches on the east bank of the Vardar River in Macedonia.

The War Office report follows:

"Balkans—Field Marshal von Mackensen, commanding the allied troops, has frequently broken the resistance of the enemy (Rumanians and Russians) and drive him back to the general line of Cusgun-Cara Orman. Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of Hesse was killed at Cara Orman. The number of prisoners taken during the fighting and storming operations at Tutrakan amounts to approximately 25,000 men.

DRIVE BRITISH BACK.

"On the Macedonian front after fierce fighting, Malkanidje, east of Florina, has been lost to the enemy. In the Moglitena district the enemy was repulsed. East of the Vardar English detachments which had established themselves in advanced German trenches were driven out again.

"Eastern war theatre — Front of Prince Leopold of Bavaria—No incidents of importance occurred. Front of Archduke Karl. In the Marajowka sector and eastward thereof, operations of German and Turkish detachments were successful.

"In the Carpathians Russian troops which penetrated our line on the western slope of Pishkonlaza, were driven out again. A section of the position which fell into the hands of the enemy west of Kapul yesterday was also recaptured. In Transylvania German and Austro-Hungarian troops are engaged in fighting that is favorable for them southwest of Hoetzing."

Rumanian Army Uses German Grain Vans.

London, Sept. 15.—Arthur Ransom, telegraphing to the Daily News from Bucharest, says:

"The Germans unwittingly supplied the Rumanians with mobilization wagons, for the Teutons had sent wagons to Rumania to fetch grain. These returned laden with Rumanian soldiers.

"We passed many troop trains and wagons from Essen and Bremen and other German towns.

"The further advance into Transylvania depends largely upon events on the southern front.

"The fall of Tutrakan is of no great importance. Its defence by a handful of troops against the heaviest odds of artillery is a glorious page in the history of the Rumanian army."

NEW EMBARGO BY BRITAIN HITS U. S.

Washington, Sept. 15.—A new embargo on trade with northern European countries has been imposed by the British trade department, Consul-General Skinner at London reported to the Department of Commerce today. The new regulations prohibit the shipment of various specified products to Denmark, Norway, Sweden and the Netherlands.

Consul-General Skinner reports that no further licenses for trade in goods mentioned will be issued until stocks of the above goods in the countries affected have been materially reduced.

"The restrictions," he said, "have been agreed to by the allies, and apply to shipments from the United States. The articles mentioned are those which have been supplied to the countries concerned in quantities alleged to exceed the normal requirements of such countries.

"As stocks decline, articles will be removed from the list of prohibitions. The Netherlands' over seas trade has been addressed to issue no further permits for goods covered by this notice. It is presumed that American goods already covered by letters of assurance will not be stopped."

Among the products embargoed are metals, foodstuffs and oils.

Italians Prepare for Mighty Drive

By International News Service.

Rome, Sept. 15.—The Italian armies on the Austrian front are preparing for another great attack, according to reports received here, that will be more terrific than the drive which resulted in the fall of Gorizia. The War Office issued the following report today:

"Between the head of the Vanoi and Fiemme valleys our attacks on the crest northeast of Mount Cauriol are proceeding satisfactorily in spite of the difficulties of the ground and the stubborn resistance of the enemy. At Mount Lagazuoi in the Travenanzes valley the enemy yesterday violently bombarded the positions we recently captured, but his efforts were without result.

"On the lower Isonzo yesterday our heavy artillery and heavy trench mortars maintained an intense fire against enemy lines to the eastward of Gorizia.

"On the Carso during a torrential rain, in the afternoon we stormed positions eastward of Vallone, taking lines of entrenchments and capturing 2,117 prisoners, including seventy-one officers, as well as machine guns and trench mortars.

"One of our aeroplane squadrons brought down two enemy seaplanes off Pansare."

BAY STATE THEORY OF RAT FLEAS IN PLAGUE

Massachusetts investigators may have solved one of the deadly secrets of infantile paralysis, the question of the carrier or transmitter of the disease.

The theory that rat fleas are responsible for the spread of the disease is being investigated through public and private channels of research.

Dr. Mark Richardson of Boston, former secretary of the Massachusetts Board of Health, first suggested the idea that rat fleas might be the mysterious transmitters of infantile paralysis.

Assistant Professor Charles T. Bruss, of the department of economic entomology of Harvard University, was in New York six weeks ago, studying the aspects of the great Manhattan epidemic.

He experimented with rats and other vermin at the big laboratory of the New York City Health Department and has since been working along the theory of transmission by rat fleas.

A number of rats were also furnished by the Manhattan health laboratory to the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, whose scientists pursued investigation along similar lines.

Surgeons of the United States health service, who have been unremitting in their efforts to get at the causes of the disease and its means of transmission, are likewise giving attention now to the rat-flea theory.

Dr. Haven Emerson, health commissioner of New York, in dispatches today from Manhattan, credited Dr. Richardson of Boston with the first suggestion of rat fleas as carriers of poliomyelitis. He added:

"Suspicion rests upon rat fleas. 'Nie theory' is based upon careful investigation, but it has not been verified yet. All other parasites suggested, such as flies and mosquitoes, have been virtually eliminated. If the rat flea theory proves correct it will mean that infantile paralysis is spread in the same manner as the bubonic plague, through flea-bearing rats."

Commissioner Emerson pointed out, however, that the chances of spreading the disease from one person to another is by far the greatest.

The question is raised, in view of the flea theory, whether dogs and cats carrying fleas have any part in transmitting the disease. Dogs have been found suffering from a type of poliomyelitis, but it has been impossible so far to inoculate them with the same variety of paralysis which attacks human beings.

STATE OPENS PLAGUE FIGHT.

Governor McCall by signing the bill giving health boards more power to deal with infantile paralysis has set in motion his plan to check the spread of the disease in Massachusetts.

The bill which was quickly pushed through the Legislature gives health boards power so that they can quarantine premises where there is infantile paralysis. The bill as as follows:

Section 1. Boards of health in cities and towns, or boards of selectmen in towns may make such rules and regulations as are necessary and proper to check the spread of disease known as infantile paralysis, and to cause its eradication by quarantine or otherwise.

Sec. 2. The State Department of Health shall have the power to revoke or revise any such rules or regulations when they are unnecessary or unreasonable, and all such rules or regulations shall not have force or effect after January 15, 1917.

Governor McCall expects the incoming Legislature to pass a general act which may satisfy cities who expressed regret at the fixing of a time limit.

Sixteen New Cases Reported in State

The State Department of Health today reported sixteen new cases of infantile paralysis for the twenty-four hours ending at 2 p. m. today. Six of these are in Boston, one in Cambridge and another in Revere. The total number of cases so far reported this month is 255, two more than the number reported for the entire month of August.

Contrary to their own policy, but in compliance with requests made to them by the local boards of health, the State Department of Health refuses to make known the names and addresses of victims in Boston, Cambridge and Revere.

The cases reported today are:

Bridgewater—Gladys M. Butler, Pleasant street.

East Bridgewater—Paul Cloves, Jr.

Beverly—Mary N. DiLorenso, No. 143 Park street; Helen Demsteadi, No. 46 County Way.

Belmont—Edward Iko, Cross street.

Cambridge—One case.

Revere—One case.

Weston—Mary Rose Sheehan, Concord road.

North Adams—Wilfred King, No. 21 Gallup street.

Pittsfield—William Jones, No. 85 Chickering street.

Boston—Six cases.

The opening of Phillips Andover Academy at Andover has been postponed because of the plague. The school was scheduled to open on September 12, but the date was changed to September 26. It was learned today that it will not reopen until October 3.

Plague Fear Keeps Many at Resorts.

Concord, N. H. Sept. 15.—Most hotel proprietors in the mountain and lake regions of New Hampshire will keep their houses open at least six weeks longer than usual this season.

This is due to the number of Autumn guests, most of whom fear to return to the cities on account of the infantile paralysis epidemic.

Hosts of people from Boston, New York and Philadelphia are staying at the mountain resorts, and there are many new arrivals daily.

Three members of the Governor's Council, J. B. Wallace of Canaan, John H. Cavanaugh of Manchester and Solon A. Carter of Concord, who are making a week's tour inspecting State highways, have encountered representatives everywhere of the throngs of Summer people making a long stay on account of the paralysis scare. Many hotels and boarding houses are filled to overflowing.

The decision of school and college authorities postponing the opening of many institutions of learning and the beginning of the crusade, however, indicates that they have taken up the matter seriously.

The opening of St. Paul's has been deferred until October 4.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST CANAL CHARGED

By International News Service.

Washington, Sept. 15. — Officials here today declared their conviction that the propaganda to undermine the public faith in the Panama Canal was under way. Its real object, they said, probably was to create sentiment for the building of a new tathman canal over the Nicaragua route.

It was said agitators were taking advantage of minor mishaps at the canal, such as slides, which are encountered.

It was stated that these slides will not constitute a permanent trouble, but will pass way within the next two years.

PANIC WHEN BANK IN CHICAGO FAILS

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Extra police were stationed in South Union street today to prevent rioting among several hundred foreigners who clamored about the private bank of Michael Michalich which has failed and swept away their life's savings. The failure of the Michalich Bank, following closely upon the collapse of the Silver and several other institutions in the past few months, has created a panic in the foreign quarter.

The Michalich Bank had deposits of between $45,000 and $50,000. There were about 400,000 depositors. Michael Michalich, the owner, and his eldest son, Stephan, will surrender to the authorities today.

To Strengthen Your Eyes— A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Doctor Tells How Eyesight May Be Strengthened 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye-weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that, according to Dr. Lewis, there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes improved through "one prescription of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses may now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active druggist and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in ¼ glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start, and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note—Another prominent City Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. It can be obtained from any good druggist and I can see no reason for prescription. I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family.

'Oh Ginger' Is 'Cuss' Limit on Work at Sunday's Tabernacle

SIR! REALLY, I SHALL HAVE TO SLAP YOU!
EVEN STERN ARGUMENTS IN THE VICINITY OF THE TABERNACLE HAVE BEEN TRANSFORMED
OH! GINGER-R!
JOZZOP

Billy Love and his wrist watch, which surprises him every day by telling him when to quit work on Billy Sunday Tabernacle; Billy's pet "cuss word" when he finds he can't work any longer is "O! Scissors!" Above (left) is Superintendent L. L. Williams of the Tabernacle.

Carpenter at work on Billy Sunday Tabernacle, who hit his finger with hammer and relieved his feelings by shouting "Oh! Ginger!"

When you hit your finger, instead of the nail with the hammer, say, "O! Ginger!"

When you are surprised at anything, say, "Oh! Scissors!"

These rules were ordered by Superintendent L. L. Williams of the Billy Sunday Tabernacle when he found out that the men wanted to say something instead of cuss words after hitting their fingers.

He knew the men must say something. The word "ginger" is the most popular.

The men have strictly obeyed the order that no one should swear during the erection of the Sunday tabernacle.

Superintendent Williams, referring to the new words, said: "We haven't heard any. So we have now put out a regular tabernacle word. Any man can say as much as he pleases, 'Oh! Ginger!' This is the tabernacle swear. Then we have 'Oh! Scissors!' when any one is surprised. When a man finds out that he is almost through his daily work, why all he has to say, if he wants to say anything is 'Oh! Scissors!'

"It took some men a long time to get used to that word, but we believe the men now have got the hang of it.

"The tabernacle is going along rapidly. We haven't had any hitches. It has not rained to any extent. If the roof of the work is going on as well as this, Boston will have the best time of her existence with the Sunday revival."

Hallie Richardson, one of the carpenters, who has hit his fingers several times with the hammer when trying to get nails into close quarters, said:

"I have got the sweep of the word, 'Oh! Ginger!' First I wanted to say something else, but then I had happened to remember that word. It came to me at first. I think they might have given us an easier word. But it's a hot word anyway."

Many men are trying to say, "Oh! Scissors!"

That's an old maid word," said William Love, who had it put to him when he thought he would say another word. By the accident of surprise Billy Love, one of the most efficient carpenters on the Sunday job, gets the word in the first place. He does not know often when to leave off with 5 o'clock comes around.

Just one peep at his wrist watch finds him just screaming out. "Oh! Scissors! Oh! Scissors!"

"I am from Texas and I would just like to have you track those boys down there that have word, 'Oh! Scissors,'" said Billy Love.

DATE IS SET FOR B. & M. HEARING

Mr. Streeter seeks to intervene, in his own behalf and in behalf of the other members of the Boston & Maine Minority Stockholders' Protective Association, to file a demurrer or an answer, or both, to the receivership petition of the International Rubber Company, at whose request Judge Putnam appointed President Hustis temporary receiver.

HAMBURG WOMEN RAID FOOD SHOPS

London, Sept. 15.—An Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says:

"Serious food riots occurred at Hamburg Saturday evening. According to Berlin reports, a mob of angry women raided shops which had been closed owing to a shortage of meat and vegetables, while another crowd made demonstrations before the Town Hall, shouting:

"'Down with the Junkers! Down with the people's torturers!'"

'ARSON TRUST' ARRESTS ARE MADE

Fourteen more may have been arrested by the Boston and State police in connection with the so-called "arson trust" following a total of eight fires allayed Sundays under arrest.

SAMUEL SOLOMONSKY, thirty-one, Davis street, East Boston, a dealer.

REUBEN LEVINE, twenty-five, Chelsea street, East Boston, a painter.

SAMUEL GILLIS, twenty-seven, Addison street, East Boston, a tailor.

HARRY KAPLAN, forty-six, Trenton street, East Boston, a tailor.

SAMUEL COHEN, thirty-four, Marion street, East Boston, a tailor.

MORRIS ABRAMSON, twenty-eight, Marion street, East Boston, a mechanic.

Although sixty-nine arrests have been made already, a number of others are scheduled to take place. The beginning of the crusade, however, incendiary fires have fallen off in number, and this has brought the total number of blazes in some sections of the city and suburbs down to surprisingly small proportions.

None of the officers most active in connection with the investigation stated that the trust has been out of business since April 1, and that any incendiary blazes which have taken place since then have been the work of independent firebugs.

The body is still at the City Hospital morgue.

HINT NEGLECT IN MEMPHIS WRECK

By International News Service.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Confidential naval reports said to disclose dereliction of duty upon the part of officers in connection with the wrecking of the United States cruiser Memphis by a tidal wave at San Domingo city were taken under consideration today by Secretary of the Navy Daniels and the general board of the navy. Hints that court martials may grow out of the investigation were persistent.

Positive proof that the Memphis could have ridden over the wave and out to the open sea if she had had steam up like the Castine, which was nearby, was presented. Following standard naval rules, it was charged, the Memphis at her position in the harbor should have had up 150 pounds of steam and prepared for just such disaster as overtook her.

The fact is, the report states, her steam was so low that she was like a water-logged craft when the tidal wave hit her. The report says that the Memphis would have had at least one chance with the Castine to escape had proper precautions been observed.

Business Men Bar Peek-a-Boo Dress

By International News Service.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 15.—Silver lead mine men are organizing a rebellion against registry of customs during business hours.

They say that powdered noses and carmined lips, freshair shoulders and translucent stockings may be primitive at nativity in the financial district of New York but cannot fit with the sober prejudices in Newark.

Hence a determined effort to establish a censorship of flesh, which is causing consternation among the gaily-bedecked girl stenographers of the town.

The campaign for dress discretion is what employers call in "prunella" vernacular is the phrase used by the young women themselves, is headed by Vice-president of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, of Newark, and Zachary Ashmead is one of the fair ring-leaders of the peek-a-boo hitherto school. he also owned in his office for that purpose. Mr. Hunter said:

We object not to their coming to the office in skirts almost to their knees, with silken hose and low shoes, but dressed as if for a social function. We wish our young women to be business women while in the office."

HINT 'MILK WAR' MAY PREVENT PRICE RISE

The possibility of a "milk war" between Boston consumers and New England producers may remove the menace of vastly increased prices at 10 cents a quart, beginning October 1. In fact, the milkmen insure that if the "milk war" materializes, the price to the consumer is not likely to rise, regardless of what may be the effort of lowering the price to cost.

Executive Order of the New England Milk Producers' Association, says he is organizing a league to fight if the contractors want to raise prices.

If the farmer states that in case of a fight, the association could establish a new operative plant in Watertown in Boston and sell milk direct to the consumers at 7 cents.

Both contractors and producers, however, were agreed that if the dealers' profits of 1½ cents are granted by the contractors, the milkmen was strong for 8 cents per quart in Boston next month. But the contractors and producers have not yet come to an agreement, and there was no definite announcement that a settlement was in sight.

H. P. Hood & Sons, declares they do firm will not increase the price of milk as an individual as its attorneys advised it that to act with the producers' association would be illegal and rendered violating the anti-trust law.

The Boston consumers is that the contractors pay them 50 cents per eight-quart can of milk after October 1. It is not certain whether the contractors will agree to the producers' demand. Speaking for the Hoods, Mr. Davis said that until the milk buyers get back from the Dairymen's League meeting the Hood Company will not know what price it will offer to the farmer.

Milk dealers say that if the increase is agreed to they will be forced to increase the price of consumers from 9 to 10 cents. On the other hand, Richard Pattee, secretary of the M.S.P.C.A., Prescott Keyes Bradford and E. Brigham, Commissioner of Agriculture of Vermont, agree that they are not convinced of the necessity of the contractors' increasing the price of milk to the consumer.

"If the contractors want to fight as we are ready to fight," said President Cobb. "They cannot throttle us producers by refusing to sell milk unless we pay the price. There are several laws governing milk shipment. Even if the Interstate Commerce Commission had not given us the relief of the several condition created by the war would allow us to ship our milk ourselves and sell it to the allies at a profit. As it is we can establish a co-operative distributing agency in Boston and sell milk direct to the consumers at cost if we are forced to it."

Mr. Bradford said:

"If it is the belief of the Milk Producers' Association that the entire profits of the farmer could be taken care of without any additional cost to the consumer, a case should be made out and made of this end of the business, we do not see what justification they have for asking for any raise in price.

"We have seen nothing from the association to justify any raise to the producer. We have seen a whole lot of misrepresentation and misstatement of facts, and think that the consumer should pay no more, although the farmer and the railroad should get more."

U. S. to Investigate Boston Milk Charge

By International News Service.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Combination in the price of milk, it is declared will be probed by the Department of Justice. The first investigation will be made on information received from Boston, which accuses milk dealers there with having combined against the public interests and in violation of the anti-trust law.

Milk producers in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia met with representatives from the Department of Agriculture and the District Health Department to investigate the possible rise in price of milk here. The producers do not wish to run contrary to the provisions of the Sherman act, which forbids agreements to raise and fix prices.

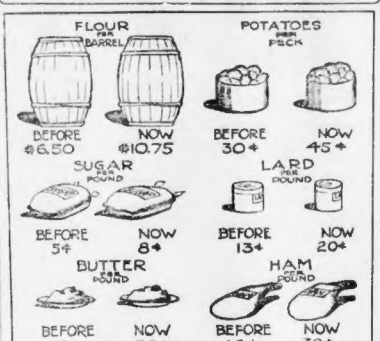
Alkali Makes Soap Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beside the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in; about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

War Has Increased Cost of Foodstuffs 20 Per Cent.



Drawing showing how some of our principal foodstuffs have increased in price since the beginning of the war.

"How much has the purchasing power of a $5 bill, with relation to foodstuffs, been curtailed since the beginning of the European war?"

This question was asked of a statistician at the Boston Chamber of Commerce today. He replied:

"In some commodities 100 per cent. In others very much less. My estimate of the increase in food prices, taking the ordinary commodities used in the families of people of moderate means, is 20 per cent.

"The biggest item in the increased cost of living since the war is flour. Good flour cost at retail from $6 to $6.50 when the war broke out. The same flour today costs from $10 to $10.75 per barrel.

"Potatoes have increased from 30 cents a peck to 45 cents, sugar from 5 to 8 cents a pound, lard from 13 to 20 cents a pound, butter from 33 to 38 cents a pound.

"Meats have increased greatly in price, pork especially. Ham, which sold for 18 cents a pound in 1914, now sells for 28 to 30 cents a pound. Beef has increased about 5 cents a pound on all cuts and lamb rather more than that.

"These represent the extreme increases. There are many commodities on which the price has not changed at all, and strangely enough many of these are commodities which come to us from a distance and on which enormous freight rates are paid. They include tea, coffee, rice, spices, etc.

"A package of soda biscuit can still be bought for 5 cents, though the manufacturer has to pay nearly twice as much for his flour. Breakfast foods, made of wheat, which has jumped in price from 95 cents a bushel to $1.54, cost the same.

"Canned fruits and vegetables have not increased greatly, nor have fresh fruit and green vegetables, except those that were affected by the wet weather in the early Summer. The rise of prices in the latter cases is laid to the war.

INCREASE IN MEATS.

"There has been a gradual increase in fish prices. The price of fish fluctuates from week to week, according to the arrivals at the fish pier, but I think it is safe to say that fish prices have increased 10 per cent. in the past two years. The cause in this is that the shortage of meats has increased the demand for fish.

"Not for many years have mackerel been so plentiful in Boston as they have for the past two months but the price of mackerel did not fall below the prices asked in years when they were much scarcer.

"Striking an average of all foodstuffs, I should say that a $5 bill today would not purchase more than $4 would have when the Serb at Sarajevo fired the shot, which was also heard around the world."

400 SAVED FROM BURNING VESSEL

Marshfield, Ore., Sept. 15.—Fire destroyed the Pacific Coast Company's liner Congress, two miles off Coos Bay bar. Several vessels which rushed to her assistance in response to distress calls, helped remove her 285 passengers and crew of 170.

No lives were lost and no one was injured.

Captain N. E. Cousins and his crew managed to maintain control and the transfer to the rescue vessels was carried out in an orderly manner.

Enveloped in flames, and driven by wind and tide the steamer drifted in toward the spit of Coos Bay.

According to word reaching here, the fire was discovered at about 3 p. m. yesterday, near the second hold in the steerage cabin. No word was received from the Congress, however, regarding the fire until nearly 5 p. m.

At that time the steamer was running for Coos Bay. She stopped off the bay bar at 4.30 and the dredge Michie soon was at the scene. Boats were lowered at once. The gasoline schooner Tillamook arrived just before the last of the passengers were removed from the forward deck of the Congress, where watchers on shore could see flames shooting as night fell.

PELICAN AT ZOO PINES FOR A NAME

A. W. McNeally, director of the Franklin Park Zoo, is very much gratified that such a large number of names are being suggested for his nameless pelican, the big, long-billed bird from Florida with the web feet and leather throated pouch.

McNeally, however, is not ready to say that the right name has been found, although he admits there are several very good ones which might fit.

More suggestions are in order; there are thousands of fine descriptive words the old bird might be called which have not occurred to the young readers of the AMERICAN. The name which will be selected will without doubt fit the pelican so exactly that immediately visitors who read it on his cage will say:

"What a splendid name."

The latest addition to the increasing list of names is "Romeo." The author believes it appropriate because the pelican looks sad and undoubtedly mourns his mate as did the young Italian of Shakespeare's imagination.

Write your name on postal cards and send to the Zoo Editor.

LEAGUE TO MAKE CITY GERM PROOF

Join the Anti-Litter League by giving a description of some house, street, alley, vacant lot or basement which should have a thorough cleaning in order to make it germ proof.

If Boston is to be free from infantile paralysis it will surely depend upon cleanliness everywhere. Health authorities say it is not enough to be clean in the wealthy parts of the city, but they insist that where there are thousands of children in tenements there should be spotless conditions, with no litter, paper, old fruit, or half-empty tin cans to make breeding places for noxious germs.

Publicity is said to be as good as a thousand brooms; therefore, send in your descriptions of unwholesome places and see how those people who are responsible will get busy and clean up.

Here is a letter from one who is acquainted with a West End district. "Anti-Litter Editor:

"Dear Sir—Do you consider newspapers and parts of paper bags litter?

"If you could see how the gutters along Merrimac street, North Margin, Hale, Norman and other places look them get filled with papers which people throw into the street you would surely think there is a good chance for sickness to breed. Children handle these papers and babies sit on them. Will you ask all the people not to throw papers on the sidewalk or onto the pavement?"

A RESIDENT OF THE WEST END.

LITTLE CREDENCE IN JAPS' DENIAL

By International News Service.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Notwithstanding official denials from Russia and Japan that neither the new Russo-Japanese treaty nor Japan's demands on China threaten the "open door" agreements, State Department officials today are continuing their investigation of the Far East situation. That it is more grave than appears on the surface was learned in official circles.

The fullest possible reports to supplement information already in the department's files have been asked for of all Americans acquainted with Far Eastern affairs.

Julian Arnold, commercial agent of the American legation in Peking, who reported in person to officials here two weeks ago, has been recalled to Washington for conferences with Secretary Lansing.

Arnold left Washington recently for the Pacific coast on confidential work for the Department of State.

Officials today pointed out that the cablegrams from Ambassador Guthrie in Tokio and Ambassador Francis in Petrograd, stating that they had been officially informed by Japan and Russia that American interests in China were not affected in any of the recent diplomatic moves were the views of the Japanese and Russian governments only, and did not necessarily mean this government looked at matters from the same point of view.

PEARSON GETS ARMORIES READY FOR RETURN OF BAY STATE MEN

Adjutant-General Gardner W. Pearson is putting the forty State armories in shape for the return of the Bay State troops. Dispatches from the front say the soldiers expect to return next week.

"While I have no official confirmation of that report, I assume that the troops will remain at the border but a comparatively short time, and I am preparing the armories to receive them," General Pearson said.

As soon as definite orders for the return are issued General Pearson said he would request the War Department to order the men to the home armories rather than to the mobilization grounds at South Framingham.

"The nights are cold and the men would suffer from the change of climate if they were sent to Camp Whitney, and I will protest to the War Department unless they are ordered to the armories," said General Pearson. "Besides, we have not enough tentage. A great crowd of people would gather at Camp Whitney and the mustering out of the men would be delayed just as the entraining was delayed when the men lit for the front."

General Pearson said that cots will be set up for the men in the armories. "There are adequate cooking facilities in all the armories and the steam could be turned on if the nights are cold," he said.

WILL REVIEW TROOPS.

General Pearson said that upon the return of the men he is prepared to request the War Department to grant them a furlough of two weeks with pay, during which time they could be gradually mustered out and "become acquainted with their families and friends before they returned to their civil duties."

He said that a review of the troops will be ordered if the brigade or any two regiments return at the same time. "In that event," he said, "there will probably be a parade through the streets of Boston and I presume the Governor would review the troops at the State House. If the Second Regiment should detrain at Springfield, I presume there will be regimental reviews at the home station of the troops."

General Pearson said that the construction of lockers and the setting-up of cots will be the principal work in the armories. Accommodations are provided in the armories for sixty-five-men companies, at peace strength, but the units were recruited to the war strength of 142 men.

EXTRA PAY IN LUMP SUM.

General Pearson called at the Executive Chamber to confer with Governor McCall on the arrangements, but the Governor left early this morning for Springfield, where he will participate in the Eastern States Agricultural and Industrial Exposition.

Word was received from "the front" today that the officers who went to secure a certified list of the Bay State troopers will complete their work tomorrow and will be back in Massachusetts next week.

Plans for the "absentee voting" provided for by the Legislature were being carried out at the State House today, although it seemed that the troops would be back before the November election.

State Treasurer Charles L. Burrill announced that he is preparing to issue short-term notes for the $500,000 to be appropriated for the Bay State soldiers, who will be paid $10 a month each by the State, under an act of the special legislative session. The men will be paid the State contribution from June 18, the day they were mustered into the service of the federal government. Mr. Burrill estimates that the State will spend about $300,000 as a result of this special legislation.

He was prepared to send "releases" to the men in order that they could direct him to turn the money over to their dependants at home, but he halted this work today when it seemed that the boys would soon return. Mr. Burrill is looking for definite information so he can at once decide whether to send the money or the "releases" to the border or to wait and pay the soldiers when they return.

GET STATE AID READY.

Richard F. Flynn, Commissioner of State Aid and Pensions, today began his plans for the distribution of money to dependent families. The law allows a maximum of $30 a month for each family.

Commissioner Flynn said that the local authorities will certify to him whether the applicants are dependents and he will inquire from the Adjutant-General's office whether the men upon whom they are dependent are actually members of the Massachusetts National Guard. When these facts are corroborated the Commissioner will order the payments to be made. At least that is his present plan.

General earson also announced today that the Armory Commission intends to employ an expert to examine the new Commonwealth Armory. Water is leaking through the roof of the terrace which covers the storeroom. General Pearson will decide whether steps should be taken to secure reimbursement for the State.

Gen. Pershing Six Months on Mexican Soil

By International News Service.

Columbus, N. M., Sept. 15.

GENERAL PERSHING'S punitive expedition has been on Mexican soil exactly six months today at noon.

It crossed March 15 from Columbus and from Culbersons Ranch, fifty miles southwest. No material change in numbers has been effected to date.

On March 15, Villa was flowing before the advance of General Pershing's fast following troops. Today he is reported moving back from near Guerrero to closer touch with Pershing.

In the six months during which General Pershing's men have occupied Mexican territory in the chase of Villa, American troops have gone as far south as Parral, some 450 miles below the border. They are today restricted to a strip reaching from Columbus to near El Valle, about 200 miles below the border.

PLAN TO POLICE MEXICAN BORDER

By STUART GODWIN,
International News Service Head Correspondent.

New London, Sept. 15.—Final agreement on a border protection program was brought much closer today at the conference of the American and Mexican commissions. When the Mexican representatives have been persuaded to agree that the joint international police shall have the power to exterminate brigands in a neutralized strip of northern Mexico the last obstacle to this phase of the negotiations will have passed.

The commissions have considered all of the plans put forward, and the one now favored will include policing of a neutral strip, forty or fifty miles wide in a portion of southern United States, northern Mexico, the police force to be made up of equal numbers of American and Carrancista troops.

The objection to this scheme encountered from the Mexican commissioners is that General Carranza would prefer to choose his own method for the suppression of banditry in Chihuahua. On this point the American commissioners are firm, and expect to have their way.

It was admitted that the withdrawal of General Pershing might result in an immediate increase of small bands of raiders, who will turn their attention to American border towns.

The commissioners are still deadlocked in trying to fix responsibility for the Columbus raid, as well as the Carrizal and Parral fights.

VILLA TO ATTACK CHIHUAHUA CITY

Washington, Sept. 15.—Official dispatches to the State Department today confirmed reports leaking across the border that Francisco Villa is preparing to attack Chihuahua City tomorrow, a Mexican holiday. The dispatch gives the first official confirmation to reports that his operations are being conducted on a large scale.

200 PASSENGERS ON BARK IN DISTRESS

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—Tugs were sent from here at 8 o'clock today to the aid of the Alaskan bark Star of Chile, which has signalled for help three-quarters of a mile off shore. On the Chile are 200 passengers, most of them canning workers who were returning from their season's work in the far north. It was reported, but unconfirmed, that the Chile was caught in the breakers and was in immediate danger of breaking up.

15 FACE GAMBLING CHARGE AT SALEM

Boys Are Eager for Word to Start Home

By BERT FORD.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 16.—Inquiry among the companies of the Massachusetts infantry regiments, following instructions from General Bell, who asked to have the sharpshooters listed, revealed the fact that a very large percentage of the men have never fired rifles and a large number have used rifles, but not enough to qualify as marksmen.

The reason the southern headquarters seeks this information has not been disclosed, but it has stirred speculation almost as keen as that relating to the time when the Bay State troops will be started home.

Rumors flew so thick and fast yesterday that it seemed as if the only thing lacking was the good-bye toots of the troop train locomotives, but today there are clouds of doubts and admissions by commanding officers that they have no knowledge of a definite date, though they feel the time is near.

The coming home speculation has reached a demoralizing stage. Whatever the purpose, there is no doubt that the regular army officers are speeding up inspections.

Following the ten-mile hike and review of the Second Massachusetts Brigade Wednesday the Eighth Regiment was put through a regimental test on the parade ground at Camp Cotton. Colonel Frank A. Graves was delighted with the showing.

A dozen army officers represented General Funston in tactical and property inspection all through the brigade.

The first battalion of the Ninth commanded by Major William J. Casey, left camp early and hiked six miles beyond the Valverde, establishing outposts for practice and marched back. Major Barry's and Major Donovan's battalions will take the road next. Skipping from battalion to brigade tests is what started the going home rumors afresh.

General E. Leroy Sweetser was most pleased by the fact that his brigade did not straggle on the hike, which was shown by the fact that it passed a given point at the finish in exactly the same time as the start. It may interest folks home to learn that the Massachusetts brigade is the largest in the country, army and National Guard included.

Kenneth L. Childs, assistant bandmaster of the Fifth, has been discharged.

Privates Hurley and Cady of the Fifth were kicked by mules during the hike Wednesday. Healey's arm was broken, but Cady was not badly hurt.

ECZEMA ALL OVER BABY'S HEAD

Broke Out in Pimples. Spread Rapidly. Itched. Irritable at Night. Healed by Cuticura.

"My baby was very bad with eczema which started in first one cheek, then the other, and finally was all over his head. The skin first became shiny, then turned red and broke out in something like pimples. The eczema spread rapidly and after a while it looked as though he were perspiring. It would itch and make him very fussy and he was real irritable at night.

"Then I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. They stopped the spreading right off, and in six weeks he was entirely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Albert V. Green, Phoenixville, Conn., May 5, 1916.

Don't let your child go through life with a chronic disfiguring eczema. It can be avoided if you will do as Mrs. Green did. Just get Cuticura Soap and Ointment and follow directions. You will be amply rewarded in the knowledge that you have done your best to put into the world with a clear healthy skin. Many cases of early eczemas have been caused by the use of cheap, impure and strongly medicated soaps. Cuticura Soap is ideal for infants and children.

HEAVY LOSS IN N. Y. STATE FARM FIRES

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 15. — Burned barns, hay, farming implements and livestock, aggregating a loss in Central New York of many thousands of dollars, was the story told today over the telephone wires after communication with rural communities had been restored following last night's terrific storm. It was the most severe electrical storm of the season, scores of barns and other farm buildings in Oneida, Herkimer and Madison Counties being levelled by flames.

HOAR IS CANDIDATE IN FIFTH DISTRICT

Rogers Sherman Hoar of Concord, former Assistant Attorney-General of Massachusetts and a former member of the State Senate, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Fifth District. He also declared his intention to conduct a vigorous campaign against Congressman John Jacob Rogers, although the district is strongly Republican. "I shall make my campaign," he said, "on the war issue."

We have Norfolks here in hundreds of patterns and scores of styles at prices from 5.00 to 14.75

Parents should appreciate our efforts to secure only the most reliable of clothing. Manufacturers from whom we buy must subject their products to a most rigid test, which must be passed before we purchase. Sometimes our test appears to be drawn too fine, but we believe that, if we give the very best quality for the money, greater and more stable business will result. This seems to be proven, as our Boys' Clothing business is increasing by leaps and bounds.

ADMITS KILLING CAMBRIDGE MAN

Frank E. McKeon of Elm street, Lawrence, has confessed to the police of that city that he murdered Joseph Mulhern, thirty-two years old, of No. 472 Hampshire street, Cambridge, whose mutilated body was found on the tracks of the Lawrence and Salem Street Railway Company in Middleton on the night of September 3.

The police say that witnesses told them McKeon, in referring to the tragedy, broke down and cried:

"He died! He's dead!"

McKeon's mother, the police say, said:

"It's his own fault."

The suspicions of the State and Lawrence police were aroused when it became known that the motorman of a car, which had run over the body, had returned to the scene immediately and found it cold.

McKeon said that he and his mother started from Lawrence to Lynn with Mulhern. When they reached Middleton they left the car. He struck Mulhern on the head with a rock.

Mulhern's clothing had been rifled of a sum of money. The police believe the murder was committed some distance from the tracks and that McKeon afterwards dragged the body to a spot where it would be run over.

LODGE IN OX-CART CHARIOT AT FAIR

New Bedford, Sept. 15.—Something entirely new in triumphal entries was introduced at the Southern New England Fair. Senator Lodge, speaker of the day, mounted on a chariot drawn by twenty-two slow-moving oxen, was carried to the speaker's stand amid a tumult of applause.

Senator Lodge criticized what he termed the tendency of the administration toward government ownership. As a concrete example he referred to the vote of Congress establishing an armor plant and taking over a concern for the manufacture of military belts.

"There is a tendency at Washington," he said, "to put the government into every kind of business, business which can be done more efficiently by private enterprise."

DANIELS URGES NAVAL VALUE OF INLAND WATERWAY PLAN

By International News Service.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—A series of inland waterways by which submarines might travel from Boston to Key West without entering the Atlantic Ocean is vitally necessary to national defence, Secretary of the Navy Daniels told the Atlantic deepe ways convention here this afternoon. The convention is working for establishment of 131 miles of canals to link 1,800 waterways from Maine to Florida.

In an address at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, Secretary Daniels said:

"The importance of sheltered water paths up and down our Atlantic coast, through which small boats may proceed from point to point has been enormously increased by the conditions of modern warfare.

"Every inland channel adds that much more to the protections of our coast to the safety of our ports and. It is not too much to say, to the safety of our entire country from invasion.

"Their importance from a military point of view has not, perhaps, been recognized as it should be until the present war in Europe. It was not sore battleships nor good armored cruisers that England found herself in desperate need of, when the hour of peril came; it was for trawlers, smut boats, little merchant and pleasure craft, which had never been considered as of any great naval importance. The tireless service of these small craft, their ceaseless vigilance and effective scouting have made them of prime importance to the strategic defence of a coast.

"You need have no fear of the sunset, enthusiastic co-operation of the navy department with any practical plans looking for improvement of waterways along the coast so that a submarine may travel through the inner passage from Boston to Key West."

Two Planes Downed.

London, Sept. 15.—Two hostile machines have been downed in flames on the Somme front. A British machine is missing.

MRS. ELIZABETH NICHOLS, wealthy woman slain for money by employe she dismissed.

SENT TO PRISON FOR BURNING BARN

William H. Downey and John Anderson, both of Hollis ton, found guilty of arson yesterday by a jury, were today sentenced from six to eight years in State Prison by Judge Stevens in the Superior Criminal Court. They set fire to a barn owned by Walter Morse, their employer, on July 9. The barn was destroyed with a loss of $4,000.

$5,000 TO $2,500 THAT HUGHES WINS

New York, Sept. 15.—Odds on the election remain steady at 2 to 1 on Hughes on whatever bids and offers were made on the Broad street curb and in stock exchange houses. A bet of $5,000 against $2,500 was placed through stock exchange houses for the account of customers. On the curb Hughes money was again offered in fair supply at 2 to 1 with no takers.

WELTONER MAKES DASH FOR LIBERTY

New York, Sept. 15.—Arthur Weltoner, confessed murderer of Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols, a wealthy widow in New York, a year ago, attempted to escape from detectives who were bringing him back to New York from Iron Wood, Mich., when the New York Central train stopped at Montrose, N. Y., early today.

When the train slowed down at Montrose, Weltoner, who was accompanied by Detectives Enright and Foley, leaped to his feet and rushed to the station platform.

Weltoner fell on his head when he jumped off the train. The detectives had the train stopped and recaptured their prisoner.

Word of the attempted escape was sent to New York and when the train reached the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station, an ambulance was there and took Waltoner to the Harlem Hospital.

It is believed today that the confession made by Waltoner and John Mulholland may free Onnie Talas, now serving a life sentence for the murder of Mrs. Nichols. His friends are proposing an appeal for clemency to Governor Whitman.

TO FREE INNOCENT MAN.

Weltoner supplemented his confession with more details during his brief stay in Chicago on his way, in charge of detectives, to New York.

"I was working for Mrs. Nichols only a short time when I noticed she was always watching me," he said. "One day she told me she liked me."

Weltoner said his employer was more than thirty-five years his senior.

"She exhibited a marked interest in me, which I could see was more than is usually given to a common houseman like me by his master or mistress.

"I had a sweetheart in the house," continued Weltoner. "She was a servant girl. Something came up that made us cease our attentions to one another. I intended to marry her. Then Mrs. Nichols showed a coolness toward me. I was discharged.

HAD $75,000 DIAMONDS.

"I knew she always had at least $75,000 worth of diamonds in the house and it was these jewels I wanted. I had liked her once, but when she discharged me—well, I knew she had more money than she knew what to do with—so I decided to rob her. I didn't know she was dead until I read the papers next day."

He fell in love with a girl named Lillian Keller in Hurley, Wis., and says he won her.

"I couldn't marry Lillian with such a stain on me. I decided to tell her. Then I lost my nerve. I went as far as to tell her that the name she knew me under was assumed. She thought I was John Lind.

"Then one day came to my shop this John Pello, who had been a customer of mine in a barber shop at Waukegan. I had shaved him often. He had remarked the scar. When he saw me again I was wanted for the crime. Then the detectives came and I knew my second romance was shattered.

"Lillian came to me and begged me to tell her the truth. I told her of my share in it, and she believed me. She wept a little, but promised to wait for me, and she said we would be married after I got out."

N. Y. WIRE-TAPPING CHARGES DISMISSED

New York, Sept. 15.—Mayor Mitchel's charges, growing out of the wire-tapping scandal, against Rev. William R. Farrell, Monsignor John J. Dunne, the late Dr. Daniel C. Potter and Robert W. Hebbard, former secretary of the State Board of Charities, were dismissed today by Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum.

Similar action was taken with reference to counter charges against Police Commissioner Woods. Justice Greenbaum filed a petition holding that no crime had been committed.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists, we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds, and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Advertisement.

WILSON DRENCHED BY RAIN ON LINKS

Shallow Lawn, N. J., Sept. 15.—President and Mrs. Wilson were caught in a heavy rainstorm on the golf links at Spring Lake today and were forced to run to shelter. They had played only a few holes when they were caught by the storm and drenched. The golf game was abandoned when the rain continued and the President went to his office. He had no set engagements for the day, but planned to devote most of his time to official business and studying the political situation.

At noon the President was notified that his sister, Mrs. Annie Howe, was sinking rapidly at New London, and tentative plans were made for him to go to New London later today.

Samuel Emery Dead.

Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 15.—Samuel Emery, well known sporting man and owner of Dry Monopole, first winner of the Brooklyn handicap, died at his home here today. He was sixty-five years old and retired.

ROXBURY MAN IS ELECTROCUTED

Daniel O'Leary, employed on an engine lathe in the machine factory of the Mead-Morrison Company, corner of Fremont and Orleans streets, East Boston, was electrocuted this morning at his machine when it became charged with electricity.

Police officers and a physician attempted to revive the man but failed to win a pulmotor.

O'Leary was eighteen years old and lived at No. 5 W[illegible]ace, Roxbury. For several months [illegible] orders have been received from the allies for munitions and the factory has been working night and day.

O'Leary was standing at his lathe early this morning when he fell on the floor and Albert R. Lovett, foreman, and other employes attempted to revive him. Their attempts being futile they called Dr. Boots and the police.

The body was removed to the North Grove street morgue, where an autopsy will be performed by Dr. George [illegible]

terday their respective standings today are as follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

	W.	L.	P.C.
Dodgers	78	45	.634
Phillies	77	55	.584
Braves	74	57	.565

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

	W.	L.	P.C.
Red Sox	76	54	.585
Tigers	76	55	.580
White Sox	75	60	.556

Conditions this morning are practically the same as those which prevailed yesterday. That is, either of the Boston clubs are in position to make advantageous gains or losses that will hurt. The Braves cannot go into the lead but the Red Sox can go out of it. And today the White Sox have the chance to lead the procession which they did not have yesterday.

LAWS OF AVERAGE.

Boston faces the Cubs in the final game of the series and at Brooklyn and Philadelphia these clubs are clashing with Pittsburgh and St. Louis. Laws of average, which some New York writers inject into the race, should give the Phillies a win today and likewise the Dodgers should be favored. By the same token we can see no reason for the Braves losing. Should the Braves win today while the other two clubs are losing the standings would be as follows:

	W.	L.	P.C.
Braves	75	57	.568
Dodgers	78	45	.634
Phillies	77	56	.576

If the Red Sox lose and Chicago and Detroit win the standings will be:

	W.	L.	P.C.
Tigers	81	60	.574
White Sox	80	60	.571
Red Sox	76	59	.563

Were the White Sox to win while the other two lost the White Sox would be in front with a .571 percentage. Tigers four points behind, and the Red Sox at .563. Thus it can be seen that it is essential for the Red Sox to land the game today as well as those which follow immediately after it.

Ty Has Hard Task to Catch Speaker

TY COBB faces an almost impossible task in trying to beat out Tris Speaker for the batting leadership in the American League.

The up-to-date records of both players, including yesterday's games follow:

	At Bat.	Ave.	Hits.
Speaker	490	.356	169
Cobb	493	.358	176

The official figures above show that Speaker leads Cobb by fourteen hits in practically the same number of times at bat. For Cobb to win out he must make fifteen more hits than Speaker in the same number of times at bat during the rest of the season. The Tigers have fifteen more games to play, the Indians about the same number.

GOT REPORT IN BOSTON.

The submarine report was printed by a New York newspaper, which received it from its Boston correspondent. The story said that a man "in close touch" with the Eastern Forwarding Company was authority for the news. The Eastern Forwarding Company is the agent of the German submarine line on this side of the Atlantic.

It was later reported in Boston that the Boston Towboat Company had received the wireless message from the submarine and had immediately despatched a tug to pilot the U-liner to port.

Officials of the Boston Towboat Company tended these reports in every particular.

The various reports caused minutes watch to be maintained along the south New England coast for anything that looked liked a submarine, domestic or foreign.

Marine observatories, ships, light-ships and others who catch the first glimpses of incoming shipping were on the lookout for any sight of a U-boat, even or the low hull of a U-liner.

The story printed by the New York newspaper, under a Boston date line, and locating the submarine 200 miles east of Nantucket, was as follows:

"A German subsea Merchantman, believed to be the Bremen, the America or possibly the Deutschland on a return trip, was spoken to yesterday by wireless 200 miles east of Nantucket.

"This report was received by a man who is in close touch with the Eastern Forwarding Company, the agents of Germany's submarine line on this side of the Atlantic.

"The Bremen has been expected daily at New London, Ct., for nearly a month. She is reported variously to be from fifteen to thirty days overdue.

"A Washington dispatch last Saturday stated that she had passed in safety the British patrol in the English Channel, but that she had been given up for lost. She was supposed to have a wireless radius of 2,500 miles, and mariners regarded it as certain that, if she had succeeded in crossing the Atlantic, she would have been heard from many days ago.

THOUGHT TO BE AMERIKA.

"'If the Bremen was 200 miles east of Nantucket today she should reach New London Saturday or Sunday.'"

Another New York dispatch read:

"According to a message received here, the German submarine Amerika, bound from Bremen to New London, was spoken last night 300 miles east of Nantucket. If the report is true, the Amerika will probably dock at New London Saturday."

DR. GOLDTHWAITE RAPS ARMY SYSTEM

Dr. Joel E. Goldthwaite of Boston, who has just returned from El Paso, rapped today the system of the United States government in looking after the needs of the militiamen on the Mexican border, in his address today before the Special Aid Society at their rooms, No. 601 Boylston street.

Dr. Goldthwaite spent the greater part of three weeks at El Paso and visited the three large camps. He spent some time at Camp Cotton.

"Our system of attending to the wants of the men on the border is all wrong," he said.

SHOTS FIRED IN NEW YORK STRIKE

placed in the underground trolley plots by strike sympathizers.

Unless the strike is settled by Saturday every one of the 75,000 trades unionists in New York connected in any way with transportation facilities will walk out. They will be ordered to quit work on Monday.

This threat was made by J. P. Holland, president of the State Federation of Labor, in an address he delivered in Union square.

He put the settlement of the strike squarely up to Mayor Mitchel and Roger S. Straus, chairman of the public service commission.

William B. Fitzgerald, general organizer of the Amalgamated Association, made a similar threat. He said:

400,000 READY TO STRIKE.

"We have no fear as to the result of this battle. There are 400,000 men and women enrolled in labor organizations in this city ready to assist us the right moment and they will quit every shop they are employed in if it is necessary to maintain the principle for which we are fighting."

At the Union square meeting, Holland said in part:

"The workers of the building trades unions, plumbers and many others are ready to go out on a sympathetic strike. The match is ready. If nothing has been done by Saturday, a strike that will astonish the city will be called. We have been waiting only to give Mayor Mitchel and the Public Service Commission a chance.

Final arrangements for the calling of a sympathetic strike will be made tonight at a meeting in Labor Temple.

"The backbone of the street car strike is broken," declared Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough and New York Railways companies. "By 5 o'clock this evening every position in the subway service will have been filled and we have 1500 surplus men to work in case of emergency. There is not an inexperienced man or strike-breaker in the lot.

"I believe that in a few days conditions on the surface lines will be greatly improved. The strike will be surely, but gradually broken."

FORMER HOME OF ENVOY REID BURNS

London, Sept. 15.—Fire today practically destroyed Wrest Park, formerly the country home of Whitelaw Reid, and now a soldiers' hospital. More than 100 wounded soldiers were taken out safely. Many valuable art treasures were lost.

HUGHES HOME FOR FOUR DAYS' REST

Bridgehampton, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Charles E. Hughes threw off the cares of campaigning today and for four days will rest up for his drive in the Middle West, which begins next Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes went motoring this morning. This afternoon the Republican candidate and his secretary, Lawrence Green, planned to play golf at the Bridgehampton Club.

Mother Is Dying, Come Back Home!

Somewhere along Boston & Providence boy of seventeen is "living his own life," and "showing the folks" that he "can get along," while his invalid mother, in the sick room at home, is praying only that she may be spared long enough to see her Willie once more before she passes on.

The boy who ran away from home is William Mahoney, of No. 76 Armstrong street, Providence.

On a Saturday night late in July, Mahoney came home from his place of work as an express teamster and shortly went out again in his working clothes and with his week's pay. Nobody in Providence heard from him thereafter until, on August 6, he addressed a postal card to his only sister, from Station A, in the South End. The card read:

"Dear Anna:

"I am working here in Boston and getting $40 a month. Think I'll stay the month out. Don't worry about me. (signed) "BILL."

There has been no other message of any sort. The family waited a month. Today a half-brother of the missing lad, Patrolman Dennis Mahoney of the Providence Police Department, came to Boston to ask the newspapers and his brother officers to do what they can to help in the search.

"Bill's absence is killing his mother," Patrolman Mahoney said, "and has made Anna ill. I have a feeling that if the boy knew how his silence has affected them he would hurry home."

POLICE USE CLUBS IN STRIKE RIOT

Chain were charged with assault on an unknown person.

About 200 men are on strike at the factory, and 200 strike-breakers have been imported. The anger among the strikers resulted in attacks upon the strike-breakers once before, when several were arrested.

This morning, the strikers, armed with hammers, pieces of lead pipes and stones, gathered on the bridge. When the two automobiles containing strike-breakers appeared the mob opened fire with missiles, and the first flight of them drove the chauffeurs to cover. The automobiles were thus stalled, and the mob swarmed around them, dragging the strike-breakers from their seats and pummeling them.

POLICE USE CLUBS.

Telephone calls brought the police reserves in two automobiles. The automobiles charged the mob and halted when the police, their clubs busy, boiled out of the machines and laid about them at whoever was nearest.

The police quickly scattered the mob, making four arrests in the process. Then after doctors had patched up the injured strike-breakers they were escorted to the Chelsea line, where they were turned over to the Chelsea police for escort to the factory.

SEVEN HELD FOR STABBING AFFRAY

Seven men were in Roxbury Court today as the result of a stabbing affair last night, when four men were wounded, one of whom Leo Lasking, sixteen years old, of Glenway street, Dorchester, is in a critical condition at the City Hospital.

The cases were continued until September 26. All the men were charged with taking part in an affray. Two of them, Joseph and Samuel Arsanllian, were charged with assault with a knife with intent to kill, and were held in $3,000 each. The others were held in $500.

The men in court today, all of whom live in East Watertown, were Richard Bonarian, Blazaren, Kakor Kayfarlian, Henry Kedrian, Joseph Arsnallan, Drian Arsnallan and Samuel Arsnallan.

All the men in the fight have been employed by the American Steam Gauge Company of No. 208 Camden street, South End. The trouble, which is said to have been due to labor difference, took place shortly after the men left work last night.

Leslie Laskin, who was the most seriously injured, Morris Honanow of Erie street, Dorchester; John McLeod of William street, Cambridge, and William Corrigan of Cambridge were injured.

GIRLS, GET IN LINE FOR SWIM CLASSIC

The girls are pouring in entries for the Boston AMERICAN twelfth annual race for the feminine swimming championship of New England.

This annual classic is to be held on the Charles River Basin on Saturday afternoon, September 23.

The race is open to Boston and New England girls. It has come, in eleven contests so far, to be the great swimming event of the year this side of New York.

Girls from the big Boston beaches, municipal baths and gymnasiums enter. They are prepared for the race by a Summer of steady training. Girls from other New England points compete against the Hub experts.

Spectators come by thousands and thousands. Many of these are personally interested in one or more contestants. But many others are drawn to the match by the great spectacle itself, the noisy splash of the dive, the taxing struggle of the course and the excitement of the finishes.

The esplanade on the Boston side of the basin and the grandstand side of the Harvard bridge are jammed with spectators. From the esplanade one can almost touch the swimmers up and back along the course. From the high bridge one overlooks the entire course.

The race is only eight days away, so it is necessary for intending contestants to get their entry in right away. Fill out the entry blank and send or bring it to the Swimming Editor, Boston AMERICAN, No. 32 Hammer street. The Swimming Editor would be glad, too, to receive pictures of contestants.

50-Mile Motor Paced Race at Revere

Because of the exceptionally fine weather Manager Nat Butler of the Revere cycle track has decided to stage still another meet at the popular beach oval. This event is to take place tomorrow night with a fifty-mile motor-paced team race and a full card of amateur and professional contests as the evening's attractions.

In the team race the famous American combination of Wiley and Carman will oppose the Italian-Belgian doublet of Linart and Madenna. This is the first time that Linart and Madenna have been paired together, and just how successfully they work out remains to be seen. One thing is certain, however, both are well fitted to long-distance racing, and the fact that they finished one, two in the derby means something else again.

'How I Won 2 Golf Titles'

Champion Evans' Story

Open and Amateur Titleholder Declares He Was Favored by Luck Throughout.

By Charles ("Chick") Evans,
National Amateur and Open Golf Champion.

Long before I won two national titles in one year observant people had discovered there were several essentials to the winning of a big golf event. Skill was necessary, luck was necessary, and success lay within their proper combination.

Some golfers have been able to play indifferent golf in a big championship and get away with it, but others, like myself, have always found it necessary to play championship golf in a championship game.

"The 'break' was with him, or against him," say golfers in describing some match; and thus they apportion a mysterious something that seems to lie outside the province of a man's own calculation.

Luck begins with the selection of the championship course that suits. If the course doesn't suit, the luck of a player's game continues with the "draw"—something that until this year has always gone against me in national events.

What Constitutes "Luck" in Golf.

Luck includes all those strange happenings that stop the ball just outside the hazard, that cause it to tarry on the little hillside, and not in the trouble at its bottom, or that sends it within the cup instead of lightly poised on its rim.

The resting place of long shots cannot be calculated to the measure of a few inches and when a ball narrowly escapes disaster the "break" may be said to be with the player.

There is luck in weather, too. One golfer finds heat intolerable; another rain. Wind always ruins the game of some men, but generally speaking I consider playing in wind a matter of skill—a part of all good golf.

Thus it may be seen that many of the circumstances necessary to success are entirely outside the control of the golfer, for he cannot select his course, his "draw" or his weather.

No Complaint by Good Sportsman.

The good sportsman, however, cannot complain; he learns to take bitter medicine silently. For years I played to bad luck, but this year, for some inscrutable reason, ill fortune deserted me. The courses suited me, and the draw in the National Amateur was not objectionable. To illustrate:

In the event at Merion, for the first time since I played my first National Amateur round in 1909, I did not play a single Chicagoan or a single national champion, ex or otherwise, until I reached the final.

These things certainly played a conspicuous part in my success. Of course, all the good luck in the world would be worthless without a practical knowledge of the making of shots. On the other hand, only a marvelous game, lasting throughout the week, could keep a man at the high tension of a difficult draw.

Therefore, I declare that I won my two championships this year because luck and a good average of golf favored me.

STOMACH TROUBLE WILL DISAPPEAR

Plant Juice Man Claims Stomach Trouble Will Be Unknown in Another Generation

One of the most interesting statements recently made by The Plant Juice Man, in a recent interview, which is causing a great deal of discussion among scientists, is that the Plant Juice increases its value as the future as it has in the past year, stomach trouble and its attending symptoms will disappear from the human race in another generation.

That Plant Juice is relieving stomach, liver and kidney trouble, it is only necessary to listen to the verbal statements or read the signed testimonials of grateful people who voluntarily give endorsements for Plant Juice in order that others may be benefited, to convince the most sceptical.

Among those who may be publicly quoted is Mr. W. B. Kingsford, who lives at No. 418 High street, Dedham, Mass., a well known illustrator and designer, who has resided in this city for the past 25 years and has many friends and acquaintances. He said:

"For the past five years I have suffered from stomach trouble, which took the form of indigestion and dyspepsia. I was subject to bad bilious attacks and would be unconscious for two hours or more. I could not keep any solid food in my stomach, as it was in such a bad condition, and if I ate anything it would bring on one of those dreadful attacks of indigestion. I could not sleep, had headaches, dizzy spells, palpitation of the heart, and got so weak I was reduced to a skeleton—lost 15 pounds. My wife got a friend who had been cured of a trouble similar to mine, to get Plant Juice, and she begged me to try it. I am now glad to state publicly that I have no more pains or aches, can eat anything and digest it, and I sleep well at night. Plant Juice has cured me and I am glad to recommend it to others."

The Plant Juice Man is at The Drug Department of the Houghton & Dutton store, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

Evers Recovers Rapidly
Mitch'Is After This One

By JOHN W. MORAN, JR.

Feeling considerably better, Tro Jan Jawn Evers was up quite early this morning and off for another se ssion with Dr. J. J. Gibbons, his dentist. The molar extracted yesterda y had caused considerable relief during the night, and by the time the dentist completes his task on the Keystone King's mouth he should be in perfect condition.

The effects of the shock had completely wornoff during the night and Evers remarked to friends that he was confident he would be in first-class shape in a few days now. He remarked that the forty-five minutes he spent under Dr. Gibbons' ministrations were exceptionally pleasant. With him well etherized he hard ly see they could have been otherwise.

This morning he had a slight pain in his jaws, but on the whole felt better. Mentally he felt better, anyhow, for since the tooth was extracted he had worried considerably over it, and now that it's gone an issue in the worry. He feels confident of an early recovery and likewise that the Braves will land the pennant, how ever much hopes to be instrumental in helping them accomplish the latter.

SKULL PRACTICE.

While Messrs Stallings and Hagan ton are in Cincinnati today, praying that a majority of the sixteen players they seek come their way, Fred Mitchell is here in Boston, bemoaning the fact that he lost the eleventh game after having landed ten in a row. As yet he isn't wholly reconciled to the fact that the game went the wrong way. He thinks Boston should have landed and is more or less put out as a result.

This morning Mitchell has the bunch out for morning practice, and likewise is staging a small practice of his own. Having had much experience skull practising under Stallings and at Harvard Mitch should be able to tell the boys a thing or two at the session today. He hasn't as yet actually decided who will hurl this afternoon.

The choice seems to rest between Dick Rudolph and George Tyler with chances strongly favoring the latter. Rudolph was destined to rest a trifle longer as a result of his double effort Tuesday. It now seems as though Dick would be saved for the introduction of the St. Louis series Saturday. The Cards have done exceptionally well in Philadelphia, and Mitchell cherishes the hope that he'll be able to stop their sudden burst.

Arthur Nehf has fast rounded into shape and he now feels able to take a shot at the game. The weakness which was with him Tuesday has entirely vanished, and it might be that Mitchell would select him for the game today. As well known the Cubs do not fancy left-handers, and on that account one of the two available Stallings stars will get the task. Nehf warmed up for the relief role yesterday, and appeared to have plenty of stuff.

While on the subject of left handers time is taken to refer to Frank Allen and his condition. Allen had almost completely recovered from his recent attack of tonsilitis when the other tonsil became affected. Consequently he is yet in pretty bad shape and will not be able to work for several days more. The affair has been considerably especially with Tom Hughes still inactive. Hughes reported today that his hand felt considerably better.

The manner in which Pat Ragan and Al Goulbarn have hurled since the advent of Tom Hanks has given the followers of the team considerable confidence that Boston won on Monday is deserved to win yesterday. Had the club saved a few of their twenty-eight runs Bill the South Paw were apparent Wednesday Don Carlos Pat might have another won game to his credit. Goulbarn will be in both halfs of Wednesday's double-header.

WILSON'S INJURY.

In the Cub camp today there is more or less unreasonness as a result of the accident which befell Art Wilson. The Chicago players contend that Smith should not have been sliding so high when he made his effort to pilfer home. They claim the incident is a rough baseball. We claim it as an accident and not for an instant think that Smith intentionally cut out Wilson. Wilson doesn't feel quite an sore this morning, that is physically, and will unquestionably be in uniform this afternoon.

It appears as though Smith might have profited a little had he waited for Gowdy to get the pass which Perry was bent on giving him in the ninth yesterday. Had Hankins got on a pinch hitter would surely have gone in, and then there was a prospect of a double steal being successfully worked. However it don't get a person, a thing to act as second guess manager.

PACKARD TO WORK.

Tinker will probably use Gene Packard, though Long George McConnell might get the job. Either one of the two is about ready for the fray and at the same time it might be said that Jim Vaughn or Pfeffer are in shape to start. Vaughn didn't go so far Wednesday but what he could work today. Pfeffer was in but a short time and suffered chiefly from lack of control.

After today's game the Cubs leave Boston nor to return again until another season is well under way. As their wake come the St. Louis Cardinals, who have fared far better than expected against the Patmen in Philadelphia. The Cards have always been a tough club for the Braves and the Saturday game between the two clubs should be a hummer throughout. Fred Mitchell will still be managing and will be hustling every inch of the way for the win.

Half-Mile Mark Fractured by Directum II.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 15.—A new world's record was added to the list, which the champion pacer, Directum II., has been accumulating during the past three seasons, at the Grand Circuit races today.

The stallion was started to beat the record for a half-mile and paced the distance in :55¾. The best previous half was :58, made by Dan Patch in 1904.

The racing feature was the stake for 2:07 pacers and this furnished a big upset, the noted four-year-old filly, Miss Harris M, being beaten by Roan Hal. The first heat was hotly contested all the way, but in the second they loafed to the half, Roan Hal winning in 2:07¾.

In the final Miss Harris M. led to the half in 1:00, but Roan Hal beat her, in an exciting finish in 2:01¾.

Rissy Lassie (Cox) won the 2:20 trot and Zomrect (McDonald) annexed the 2:06 trot. The latter's best time was 2:02¼.

TRAVERS SAME OLD STAR.

Sox Cling to the Lead
Will Make Hard Fight

St. Louis, Sept. 15.—Manager Carrigan and his somewhat tattered and torn topnotchers intend to make a stand today against the scrappy Browns. The World's Champions have lost the series with the Fielder Jones crew, but mean to get this game and cling to the lead. With Barry and Gardner out of the game the club is considerably weaker than it should be, but the old spirit is there and the boys mean to win despite the handicap.

The Browns, by winning two out of four games in the series with the White Sox in Chicago this week held first place in this exciting American League race for the Red Sox, and now the Browns promise to tilt Carrigan's Champions out of the lead. But it's an honest game, a game where they're always trying and a game where a second division club will never give an inch to the leader.

The Red Sox opened their final swing through the West Less against the fifth-place Browns and were jolted, 6-1, because the Browns refused to step aside and allow the Carrigan machine to roll over them. Shore was hit hard in the pinches and was the recipient of miserable support.

The Browns are practically out of the pennant scramble, but against the Red Sox Fielder Jones is using the best he has on the shelf. In the first game he used Eddie Plank, and the veteran turned up with a handy victory. Plank allowed but five hits, and only two came after the first inning.

The Red Sox do not look like the Red Sox with Jack Barry as absentee. With Barry in the mutinee it might have been a victory for the leaders. The old boy certainly was missed.

In the first inning Janvrin muffed a pop fly from Pratt with two out and a runner on second. The runner scored and tied the run the Sox made in their half of the first when Walker, who was back on duty, as it was a southpaw on the slab, doubled and Gainer singled.

Then, in the fifth, with a full house and one down, Pratt bounded to Janvrin a foot away from second. Instead of touching the bag and throwing to first for an easy double play, Janvrin waited for Sisler, tagged the runner and then made a wild throw to first. This sent in two more runs for the home nine.

The Yankees helped the Red Sox by winning from the Tygers, and, where the Westerners are a tough schedule for the Boston entry out in the wilds, General Bill is confident the Yankees and Nationals will cause considerable trouble against the Tygers and White Sox.

For today's game Jones will use Davenport or Koob, while Leonard is down to fling for the World's Champions.

Five points separate the leading Red Sox, Tigers and White Sox. Either can hold or jump into the lead today.

BRAVES NOTES

LAST chance to see the Cubs at 3:15. Naturally the Braves are out to avenge yesterday's defeat.

IT is sincerely hoped the drafting session to Cincinnati this afternoon results satisfactorily for Boston. We should hate to see Stallings and Haughton disappointed in their efforts to land some nifty young players for next year.

* * *

BASE hits weren't so frequent yesterday and consequently runs didn't come across. Had a few of the big blows that were registered Wednesday been reserved, the Braves would now be snuggling in second place. However, no ground was lost to Philadelphia and not enough to Brooklyn to cause much worry.

* * *

PAT RAGAN surely put something on the last ball he pitched to Sisler in the eighth inning. We sent up a high foul which dropped close to the Braves' dugout. Hannis was waiting at the line and the ball was sliced off. Had Sisler hit, the game wouldn't have gone into extra sessions, as three were on. Pat pulled himself out of a bad hole, for at one time the count was three balls and nothing on Sisler.

* * *

JIMMY ARCHER has been in tough luck all season. His accident yesterday is his second since the year opened. However, it could be worse, for now it's nothing but a split finger, whereas before the finger was broken.

* * *

BILL KLEM had more or less trouble look ing him over. In the fourth, with the count two and two, he called a ball on Wilson which hit the plate. Bill didn't relish being told the ball was over.

* * *

BILL WHELAN put in a busy day as far as baseball business goes. He spent most of the operation on Evers' jaw; then fixed up Archer's hand and lastly attended to Wilson's cut.

HARVARD ASSURED 1916 TENNIS CROWN

Philadelphia, Sept. 1. Harvard retains the intercollegiate championship, the intercollegiate singles championship and the intercollegiate doubles championship, today a title holder at least. Dean Jacobus of Colket Cup and J. S. Coffin are the champs, since who have fought their way through to the finals.

In the semi-finals Caner and Hartz, Harvard, beat Warren and McClenahan, University of Southern California, and Pfaffman and Whitehouse, Harvard, clash with Riker and Knox, Princeton.

LEONARD WINS AND GAY RIOT FOLLOWS

New York, Sept. 15. Benny Leonard defeated Freddie Cowper in the Polo Grounds today a title bout, at end, left Jad Coulter out. You bet Jacobus is Colket Cup and J. S. Coffin are the champs, since who have fought their way through to the finals.

In the semi-finals Caner and Hartz, Harvard, beat Warren and McClenahan, University of Southern California, and Pfaffman and Whitehouse, Harvard, clash with Riker and Knox, Princeton.

Game in Eight Days

Harvard Gets First Cut

With the first cut in Harvard's football squad made, preparations are under way on Soldiers Field in earnest today to get the varsity eleven fully equipped for its initial contest, which is only eight days away.

Field Coach Leary, in his zealousness to see how the men, whom he is desirous of starting against Colby, act under stress, may order a short scrimmage this afternoon, but it is more than likely he will ask all hands to report tomorrow forenoon when Teams A and B will meet the second team in two fifteen-minute halves.

Forty-two men survived the initial slash, some of whom are slated to feel the axe as the season grows older. The normal number of the varsity squad usually fluctuates around three dozen, with two or three shaved off this number by the time of the Yale game.

Coach Leary told the candidates, before acting as official headsman, that the members of the varsity squad need not comfort themselves that their places are secure, nor should the dropped players mourn because of their ill fortune.

No man is sure of his place, Leary declares, and some who are with the lowly seconds scrubs may find themselves overnight replacing players now rated as first-string men.

"It means hard work but if a man has the nerve and ability, no power on Harvard football can keep him from his proper place on the team," is what Leary told the squad.

Dick Harte, Yale's 1915 end, and Fall and George Caner, Saturday's tackle, who are at Merion representing Harvard in the intercollegiate tennis tournament, Charles Coolidge, dux in this country last week from China, and Mose Taylor, now on his way East from the Rockies, were included on the varsity enrollment.

George Batchelder and Dug Lovell, who Parmenter has been trying to revamp into centres, are rated as tackles in the revised varsity list.

Captain Dadmun retains his last season's position at guard, while Taylor is shifted to Bob Fisher's band of tackles.

Taylor should make a first rate pickle. Long versatile and is strong as a young bull.

Leary bundled together a preliminary lineup he will start against the second team tomorrow, and if it is Tay a B and C had them running through signals for some three minutes.

Captain Dadmun at left guard, Joe Harris at center, Robinson at quarter, Jack and Herween at fullback were the "it" men in the varsity lineup "Ash-bin" Clark, the 210-pounder, was at right guard, while Lovell and Batchelder were sent through their paces at tackles. Vance Likens, a whirlwind as a Buffalo, N. Y., schoolboy player, had right end, and Paul Hartley, one of the college's best boxers, played the other outpost.

Billy Muldoon was the camera dispenser, and his fellow Lions were "Safe" Bond, the red head Everett youth, "Hank" Flower captain of the 1918 eleven, and Ralph Herween, the human catapult.

The backfield is a spry one, with Robinson at the periscope and for the drop kicking, Flower for wild end runs or punting, Bond for either kinds of kicking and general all around defense, and Herween for line-plunging. The latter will do much of the rushing when the opposing "wise men" look for Robinson or Flower to kick.

This lineup, with one or two exceptions, will probably start against Colby. Harte may displace Likens and Taylor, and Caner may displace Lovell and Batchelder.

SPORTO FOOD

THE DEATH KNELL.

While holding converse with a gent whose opinion we respect in a sort of way, the said gent remarked as follows: "The Welsh-White fight is the death knell of pugilism."

A cat hears its death knell eight times and is alive to attend its own funeral.

Pugilism has it on the cat.

Pugilism has heard its death knell at least 1,856,372 times and still is on the job straining its ears to hear another.

Pugilism died many years before we were born, but the first time that we heard pugilism had demised was in the year 1892 Anno Dominl, when we were eight years old and all the world revolved around John L. Sullivan.

Jim Corbett killed it; so did Kid McCoy, Tommy Ryan, Joe Gans, Terry McGovern, Al Herford Wats Harp, Billy Yolse, Jack Monroe, Jim Jeffries, Jack Johnson and a flock of other clever executioners. But we find that our modern pugilists are killing the game as effectively as the ancients, and still it lives.

Johnson and Curley killed it in Havana and Willard and Moran killed it in New York. When properly buried six feet beneath the sod Welsh and White killed it in Colorado Springs, several thousand feet above the sea level.

Where it will be killed next we have no idea, but we know from long experience that it will be in an appropriate spot, surrounded by persons who have paid for ringside seats and who say, "Never again," but who will be there in their ringside seats next time whether it be in Colorado Springs, Milwaukee, Tia Juanita, Madison Square, Havana or Wattawan.

Anyhow, the death knell of pugilism has been sounded. The guy who first sounded it invented perpetual motion.

The Hundred Million Dollar club has disbanded. Recent events have made it feel more like 30 cents.

Our little old pal, Freddie Parley, has returned from the Mexican border. "The regulars and the State militia," he says, "look alike at a distance of 1,000 miles if you have decisive eyesight."

Day by day the newspaper game becomes more and more complex. In addition to the hostess in the hallway and one of our cowboys playing on a mouth organ.

Speaking of music, Tom Jones once played on a megaphone. Now he plays on a cash register.

If the breezes do not cease this p. m. we shall have to wear blinders or else quit work.

Conley Makes an Offer

Having decided that he was a match for his rival, Wilkins [illegible] lently answered, "Well, what if I was?"

What I want to know is, are you interested in her—are you in love with her? Would you like to marry her?"

Wilkins' reply was an evil grin.

Well, you can have her and a thousand dollars in cash—but you'll have to marry her—and be a father and the baby—mighty quick! Do you understand?" asked Conley, who had no thought of the terrible evil with which he might be engulfing Madge. He was not a psychologist—and he never guessed that he was offering to sell Madge to a man of brute instinct and low mentality. What he thought was that he was at once procuring a husband for the sweetheart of whom he had tired, a name for his baby, and his own freedom to marry Margaret Payne and satisfy his errant emotions and his father's ambitious designs.

None of this had Jimmy heard. He had only seen the two men wandering off toward the cabin with a certain absorbed interest in each other which he did not then understand, but which was now unpleasantly clear.

And so it was arranged. Richard Conley and Wilkins hatched their plot.

The Baby Stolen

Madge was wandering through the woods toward her own home, crooning to her baby, almost cheerfully. She felt strangely elated. Richard had come from the city at sound of her voice. If that could call him back to her side temporarily, she felt sure that the living tie the child in her arms represented would eventually bind him to her.

Baby glimpsed a patch of red flowers at the top of a bank by the roadside and began screaming lustily for them. To quiet him Madge laid him in the grass and climbed after the bright objects which had attracted the little lad. A minute later she returned triumphantly bearing the flowers.

Baby was gone!

Then the mother heard its cries and followed the sound. Straight to the cabin those cries led her. And when the mother reached the door of the dilapidated cottage she plunged in to rescue her baby. The man flung the door shut after her and bolted it. Then he seized her and fastened her securely. A second later he hurried out carrying the baby away under her tortured eyes.

"Gosh! That was sort of 'un—'most as much as when I take one of the kittens and the old mother cat moves for it. I laid the kid in the barn, an' then I went back and told the girl she's got to marry me or else I'd leave the kid to starve. It was lots of fun seein' her cry and beg for mercy—more than I knew when Conley thought of the plan an' I made the bargain with him."

Madge's face had gone white and was twisting with pain and horror. She thought her lover a pitiless villain. I knew that he was a driven weakling who had never guessed to what he was subjecting the girl he once loved.

At last Wilkins had united his captive and had told her to choose between her freedom and her baby's life. The girl rushed wildly out with a certain terrified expectation of pursuit, and then in an anguish of doubt she returned.

Mother love had prevailed—nothing mattered but the life of her baby. Beaten and pathetic she reentered the cabin. She knew she was going to utter degradation. But she was ready; she must brave all for the sake of her baby.

But wave on wave of horror went over her when Wilkins seized her and crushed her in his arms. She felt herself helpless to cope with the force of his brutality; she thought herself alone in those gloomy woods, but normal instincts of self-preservation had made her shriek for help, and her cries had led Jimmy and me straight to the cabin door.

And that was the story Wilkins told and I witnessed.

"And now, Miss Beatrice, will your sense of ethics and honesty prevent your using the story to Madge's advantage?" asked Jimmy. "Are you ready to fight fire with fire—will you do a little evil that good may come?"

With tense breathlessness Madge Minturn watched me—and I knew what my answer must be.

LOOK FOR 2-MILLION-SHARE DAY AS BOOM IN STOCKS CONTINUE

Brokers came in to business today with high hopes that another big day awaited them, following yesterday's banner day, when 1,751,295 shares were traded in on the New York Stock Exchange.

This broke all records of recet years and was the climax of eight consecutive million-dollar days with prices steadily going up.

It was the fourteenth million-share day this year. The heaviest previous trading occurred on September 27, 1911, at the time of filing the government's dissolution suit against the Steel Corporation, when the day's turnover totaled 1,741,974 shares.

The increased volume of business each day has been due to the public getting into the market in a large element in the market have been looking for a reaction from the present boom in prices for over a week, but it has not been forthcoming.

If traders retain their present mood they are not likely to let any reaction run very far, for the majority of them are thoroughly convinced of the soundness of the foundation upon which this season's forward movement has been built.

So great has been the advance that some of the popular American securities are selling at fresh high prices, at times what they will earn this year. Steel is selling at almost double this year's earnings. Even when the stock is expected to sell from ten to twenty times what it will earn this year. Therefore, the statement may be conservatively made that the advance in the stock market is due to so many persons express surprise in so easily a quiet, humdrum and conservative movement, which is just beginning to discount the big earnings brought about by the war.

Speaking of yesterday's big volume, James J. Phelan of Hornblower & Weeks said today:

"These are days of big figures—much bigger than prevailed during our last big boom, that of 1906 to 1916. Yet in that period we had in 1901, from April to May, twenty-six days in excess of 1,500,000 shares (twelve of which were with more than 2,000,000 shares), and from October 27, 1911, at the time of filing the government's dissolution suit against the Steel Corporation, when the day's turnover totaled 1,741,974 shares.

"The increased volume of business each day has been due to the public getting into the market in a large element in the market have been looking for a reaction from the present boom in prices for over a week, but it has not been forthcoming.

STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS

With the exception of motor stocks prices in the New York market continued their upward swing today. While the volume of business was smaller than yesterday, indications at noon pointed to another million-share day. There was a turnover of 450,100 shares in the first hour.

General Motors was off 16 points to 740 at the start but had regained half its loss by noon. Studebaker, after having lost two points, recovered but ½ point.

Features of the morning trading were Industrial Alcohol, up 2 points, Colorado Fuel, up 2, and Railway Steel Spring, up 1½. The latter issue made a new high for a year at 56¾.

Union Pacific was the leader of the rails, advancing 1¾ points to 144¾, a maximum for the year. New York Central and New Haven also showed points. Lorillard and Paul moves up 1¾ points.

Amalgamated led the coppers by advancing 1¾ to 103. Other metal stocks showed corresponding strength. Chemical shares were also in demand, advancing a point.

There was evidence of much profit-taking, the market completed the making of any new high record prices. There was also some gloom on a report of an American being on a torpedoed ship.

Lehigh Portland Cement was the feature in the Boston market. This stock advanced 12 points on announcement that the International Portland Cement Company would offer to exchange 100,000 shares of stock.

The Price of Murders Is Now to Be Arbitrated

THE International News Service sends the following report from New London:

"The American delegates have received a mass of protests from Americans whose kindred have been murdered or whose property has been destroyed. These cases are being carefully classified and all corroborative evidence assembled.

"When the list is as complete as possible it will be presented to the Mexican delegates for the purpose of finding some equitable way of settlement. The means which is believed to find most favor with the Americans is the establishment of an international court of claims, at which each case may be tried as in a court of equity."

As President Wilson had just finished a personal conference with the Mexican and American delegates, this arrangement must have had his approval.

Yet only the other day President Wilson declared that the fixed principle guiding all his conduct of foreign relations was that hostile aggressions upon American property might wait for arbitration, but that aggressions upon American lives could not wait to be the subjects of law suits and must be met with instant and forceful resistance.

The President used this theory to explain the difference between his peremptory treatment of German submarine warfare upon England and his complaisant disregard of English warfare upon American commerce.

Very well. Then, upon this theory, how will Mr. Wilson explain this proposal to submit to a general court of arbitration each individual case of assassination of peaceful Americans committed by these Mexican cutthroats?

We say again that a more shameful and disgraceful spectacle was never exhibited to the world than this conference at New London, with the personal delegates of the President of the United States sitting down to haggle and bargain with the representatives of the assassins of our own citizens over the future payments the assassins are to make to the kindred of our butchered dead.

We think that when the American people have spoken in November, Mr. Wilson will know how self-respecting Americans look upon this policy.

There Is Litter in the Brain as Well as in the Gutter

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company.

YOU have read on this page of the Anti-Litter League, to clean up the streets and do away with the rubbish.

We suggest that somebody organize a MENTAL anti-litter league.

The individual needs to have the litter removed from the MIND as the city needs litter removed from streets and parks.

What is mental litter? It is various—for instance:

SLANG is litter of the mind. It clutters up the avenues of thought, hampers clear expression, indicates laziness in the brain, just as gutter litter indicates laziness.

Clear your mind of slang and you are getting rid of mental refuse that is bad for the brain.

SLOVENLY THOUGHT is litter. You have a brain that can concentrate and deal with problems. If you let it wander along in slovenly fashion that is litter, obstruction, decay.

GOSSIP, meaningless twaddle, are litter in the mind. You hear young people going to their work, and these are words repeated a million times: "He said to me, I said to him, she said to her, he said to them." And so on forever and ever. Endless, meaningless repetition of what somebody else SAID is mental rubbish.

TRASHY BOOKS, aimless reading—they are rubbish in the brain, and ninety per cent. of all brains are filled with them—among the brains that read at all. Wealth beyond conception accumulated in the public libraries lies unused and rusting, while litter and rubbish are called for and stored away in the minds of readers. A pity and a disgrace!

Once-Overs

The good-natured man is a blessing to mankind.

He makes life better and brighter for all with whom he comes in contact.

If an employer, he gets far more from his men than does the grouch.

He knows that keeping men in good spirits goes far toward keeping them "on the high peak."

When an employer is good-natured there is not the tendency to loaf when he is away and spurt when he is present.

"Good natured" does not mean easy, lax or happy-go-lucky.

The spirit on the part of employes which makes them feel that they don't want to do any more than is absolutely necessary is the very thing which has wrecked many an institution—and this spirit usually exists where the boss is a surly cuss.

Labor that counts comes from a desire to do right—whether the boss is present or a thousand miles away.

The really good-natured man is the second noblest work of God.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

The Proposed Loan to Mexico

WHEN a burglar comes to see you in the middle of the night
And shoots off an ear or finger ere he takes his hurried flight,
Do not chide him for his action, lest mayhap he take offence,
Which is oftentimes a habit with all lowbrowed strong-armed gents.
You've a duty to that burglar which you mustn't leave undone,
Loan him what he may require to go buy another gun.

IF a blackjack artist slams you rather roughly on the block,
And you have the happy fortune to recover from the shock,
You will notice very likely that the wound that he has made
Is not bad because his blackjack is a trifle worn and frayed.
So advance him a few dollars for an instrument of crime,
So the poor chap may be ready for a better job next time.

WHEN a stranger calls upon you with a bomb in either hand,
And observes he's going to blow you to a better, happier land,
Waste no moments in remonstrance, frisk your pockets on the spot,
And insist on his accepting every dollar you have got.
"Take it, friend," you must implore him. "Take it! it is only right,
You can never know what minute you may need more dynamite!"

We Shall Meet, but We Shall Miss Him

There is soothing in the weasel words of Wilson
And the soporific cadences of Hughes
As they sing their parties' praises in the calm and cultured phrases
That are features every morning in the news.
But we miss a Certain Person's joyful method
Of engaging in a Presidential fight,
And the slam! and bang! and clamor of the metaphoric hammer
When the lie was passed a dozen times a night!

We shall see a very erudite encounter,
But, alas, our friend, the Colonel, won't be there
To proclaim all his detractors liars, thieves and malefactors
And to toss 'round words that fairly raise your hair.
Though the battle may get hotter in October
And yearning for a rough-house will be vain.

Never fancy for a minute that without the Colonel in it
This is going to be much shucks of a campaign.

Get Down to the Real Question

It doesn't help us any to be told by investigators that we shouldn't pay a higher price for milk. What we want to know is whether we've got to pay a higher price or not.

No Choice

All of the nations are now singing: "We don't want to fight, but by jingo we have got to."

See Any Almanac

The contention of a husband, accused of pouring boiling water over his wife, that she put needles in his soup is merely a challenge to all paragraphers to spring the dean of vaudeville gags.

The Opening of Hostilities

Having been going on for six months, the battle of Verdun can now be said actually to have begun.

The Last Straw

England, which is now reported to be in the grip of the Chicago beef trust, will at last be able to realize how the American colonies felt in the years immediately preceding, 1776.

Not at All Surprising

A dentist has put a crown on a squirrel's tooth, the poor animal having had more work for them in the past Summer than ever before.

Everything Forgiven and Forgotten

Evidently Alton B. Parker nurses no grudges. He is not going to take the stump for anybody in this campaign.

The Folly of Marrying a Man to Reform Him Told by Dorothy Dix

If He Won't Brace Up Because of His Self-Respect, He Probably Won't Do It for Any One Else—And, Besides, There Are Plenty of Good Men to Be Had for the Catching

By Dorothy Dix

(Reprinted by request).

MY DEAR MARIAN: You write me that you are thinking of marrying Dick. You call him "Poor Dick," and you admit that he is a dissipated ne'er-do-well, who has been nothing but a sorrow and disgrace to his family and who lets his poor old mother take in boarders to support him.

You say that no one has ever understood "Poor Dick," and that you feel perfectly sure that he only needs your influence to lift him up to the higher life, where he will never thirst for a highball again, or yearn to play poker, or be tempted by the flutter of another petticoat.

Oh, Marian, Marian, where is the fool-killer when a girl marries a man to reform him? Surely, there is no other place on earth where there is such need for the slayer of sweet little geese as when a gentle maiden tackles the job of making a man out of a bunch of appetites, and laziness, and selfishness!

It can't be done, my dear. Modern surgery has accomplished much, but it has never yet succeeded in putting a backbone into a creature as spineless as a fishing worm. In homely phrase, you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear. When you marry you must take a man as he is—not marry him for something you think you can make of him.

There are no miracle workers in these days, my child. Still less is any wife a miracle worker. There is no conjure in the marriage ceremony that changes a sot into a leader of the Young Men's Temperance Union, or makes a lazy man industrious, or that gives a weakling the strength to stand alone.

A Strong Wife Nursing Weakling Husband Through Life Is a Repulsive Sight

So, before you march to the altar look carefully at the man with whom you are contemplating taking that fatal journey, for he will be precisely the same individual before and after taking, with the same tastes, the same character, the same desires. He will not be metamorphosed into a fairy prince, but just be the same old Tom, Dick or Harry.

Before, however, you commit harikari—and I would earnestly recommend to any girl thinking of marrying a drunkard to take a dose of prussic acid or rough-on-rats instead—let me beg of you not to marry any man that you think of and speak of as "Poor Dick" or "Poor John." That phrase in itself is a confession of your recognition that he is a weakling, one who must be protected, instead of being the protector, one who is not able to take his part among men, one who must always be explained, apologized for, excused for his shortcomings.

Believe me, my dear, that there is no happiness for either party in such a marriage. You cannot subvert the order of nature and society with impunity. When the woman has to be the stalwart oak and the man becomes the clinging vine the spectacle is one at which the very gods laugh. No matter how much a woman loves a man to begin with, nor how sorry she is for him, when she sees him a pigmy among men and realizes that he cannot fight their battles nor run their race she, too, comes to share in the world's contempt of him.

When the Creator made man of greater stature and stronger muscle than he did woman, he meant us to look up to our husbands and not down upon them. That's the way we were built, my dear, and the plans and specifications upon which a woman's heart was originally constructed have never been altered. The only happy homes are those in which you find the wife trailing along after the husband or walking hand in hand with him. You will never find either peace or contentment where the wife leads the way, and the husband holds on to her petticoat like a toddling child to its mother.

But, you will say, you do not expect "Poor Dick" to be always "Poor Dick." As soon as he has the benefit of your sustaining influence you expect him to become "Successful Dick," "Great Dick," "Rich Dick." Look about you, child. You have seen many women marry shiftless, drunken loafers. How many of them have you seen succeed in making these into prosperous and honored business or professional men?

A Woman Can Help or Hinder Her Husband, but She Can't Make Him

Not one. The men who run the banks and big stores and manufactories; the men who are leading lawyers and doctors, and editors and preachers; the men who are elected to high office were not weaklings made by their wives. They were strong men who carved out their own fortunes. They do not owe their rise to any woman's influence. They got there by their own hustle and push.

There's just one job, my dear, that every man has got to do for himself, and that is to make his own character. A woman may scallop it around the edges and embroider a blue forget-me-not in one corner, or she may wear it into a frazzle in a spot or two, but that's just about all she can do. It's as far as her influence goes. She can make her husband happy or miserable. She can help him to success more quickly or delay his getting there, but she can't keep him down if he's a good man, and she can't make him rise if he's a poor one.

If a man won't refrain from drinking too much because of his own self-respect he won't do it for any wife. If he will not work and support himself because he would rather die than eat the bread of dependence he will never toil to support a family. If he has no sense of responsibility just of himself, no woman can implant it in him any more than she could graft on to him a voice like Caruso's.

Finally, beloved, if you neglect all of the balance of my counsel, take this one piece of advice: Before you marry a shiftless drunkard, who has never even made a living for himself, go down into the most squalid part of the town, rent one miserable room, and try taking in washing for a week, to see how you like the life of a drunkard's wife—for that's just about the sort of a lot in life you're going to draw if you marry one.
